Dear Robert Russ
It was a pretty good years even though school is a total waste of time. Now if we could just get Jehan to stop acting like a spastic with a leg problem it would be okay.

Robert,
Where are you, if I could see you I would write something. I hope you can manage to
to "get it on" with someone.
Sayon next year, even if you can't see me.

Robbarn,
we had alot of fun in Vegas rapny, now didn't we? Huh. Iaire a nice guy, so have a GREAT summer! Love, Carla P.S. The picture on page 31 isn't me-

"Get it on!"
Hey Robbarn!
(Tall kid with glasses that sat in front of CARY in English). It's really been a BLAST - in English and science.
... (was that all?) I hope you have fun this summer, and,
"No", I'm not moving! I'll see ya
next year, OK? OK! Love,

BRIARCLIFF: a place in which to prepare. A passage between one world and another, opening both ways so that old ideas may be transformed into new ones, yet allow memories of the past to remain. A person may enter unknowing, but no one can leave without gain.

Robert,

This has really been a fun year + we've had some good times. English - I don't call that a good time, I call it a "sleep" time. Right? Especially in chorus. Remember that bus trip back from Moltrie? + the best bus trip ^(car) ~~back~~ back from Festivil. "Robert, go back to ~~the~~ sleep" or "190 Baby" Remember? It was nice getting to meet you + I hope to see more of you next year. Have a good summer + don't sleep too much! ?/?/? Also don't let Blair get ya down, he still has to grow up!

See ya next year!
Love,
Lee

An edifice of sturdy framework, yet appealing texture, the end result of creative architectural engineering. Even lines of brick, stone, and glass. A cold, immobile, stone building. A lifeless structure. A pure essence of natural beauty surrounds the construction, creating diversions from boredom and monotonous routines. For those few open eyes, an extraordinary galaxy of life. But to the unobservant, still a lifeless site.

But the building's composition does not stop with its physical construction and natural surroundings. Life exists within the structure's many rooms and corridors, the human element.

Lost in the serenity of the moment, contemplation, apprehension, relaxation.

Linking those rush days with life by inserting a time to remember them.

Robert,

Some was fun being in your P.E. and science class this year.

Especially
all the times toward the end
when Coach Coughlin would always make fun of you for not paying attention in the back of the room.

Well have fun this summer & learn to drive
good from "FAGGOTS".

Doug

Robert, hasn't been English
great? Ha! I'm so glad it's over!
It wasn't half as good as I.P.S. class was in eighth grade -
Anyhow, have fun this summer -
Ok? see you next year -
Love ya,
Gina

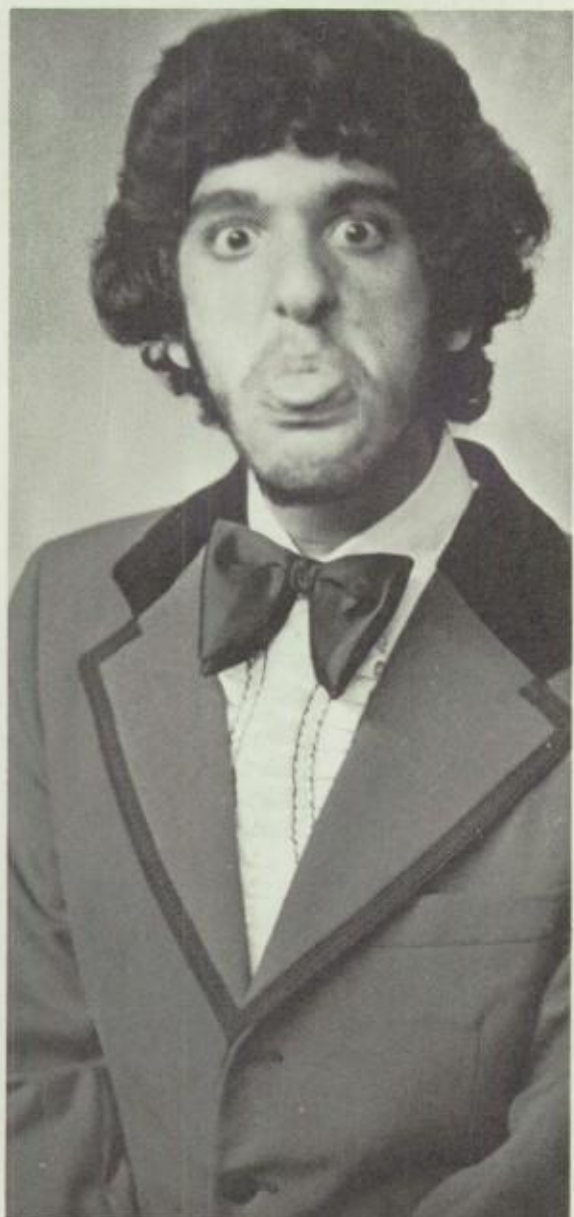

Man augments this inanimate scene.
Through the hallways, on the steps, and in the fields, there are people.

And it is the impressions of these people's actions that cannot be disregarded.

Individuality exploding in expressions. Smiles, tears, and laughter convey those inner most feelings. Somehow they cannot be expressed in words alone. Searching for something in everything. Taking life seriously in a happy sort of way.

Beneath the structural surface lies involvement. Students engaged in an ardent drive to better themselves through instruction. Teachers and administrators facing the systematic execution of persued goals. All bring life to an otherwise inanimate architectural setting.

Robern,

Chorus has really been fun. I'll never forget the festival. 32 superiors! We're too much! Remember "Robern, go back to sleep" That was funny! Blair is really a brat, you know? I don't think he'll ever grow up! Remember moultrie? Blair & his pepper. He really gave it to me & you. That hurt so much! And drinking water didn't help, either. We had to sing with a burnt mouth! That night I got sick, & I was throwing up. I think it was from being around Blair too much! English was sooo boring! Mrs. Chetwynd never shuts up, does

Shield Dedication
Ernest Hallford

Each day in the life of Ernest Hallford is a day for Briarcliff. With a dedication seen by all, he has taken on the task of being not only an administrator, but also a friend to all those who work at and attend Briarcliff.

Mr. Hallford is fair when making each necessary decision. He takes the time to listen to problems which arise concerning students or teachers. With a song in his heart he walks the halls of BHS, surrounded by those who have grown to love him in four years here. True he is a dedicated, respected principal, but at the same time he is also just "Uncle Ernie" to us.

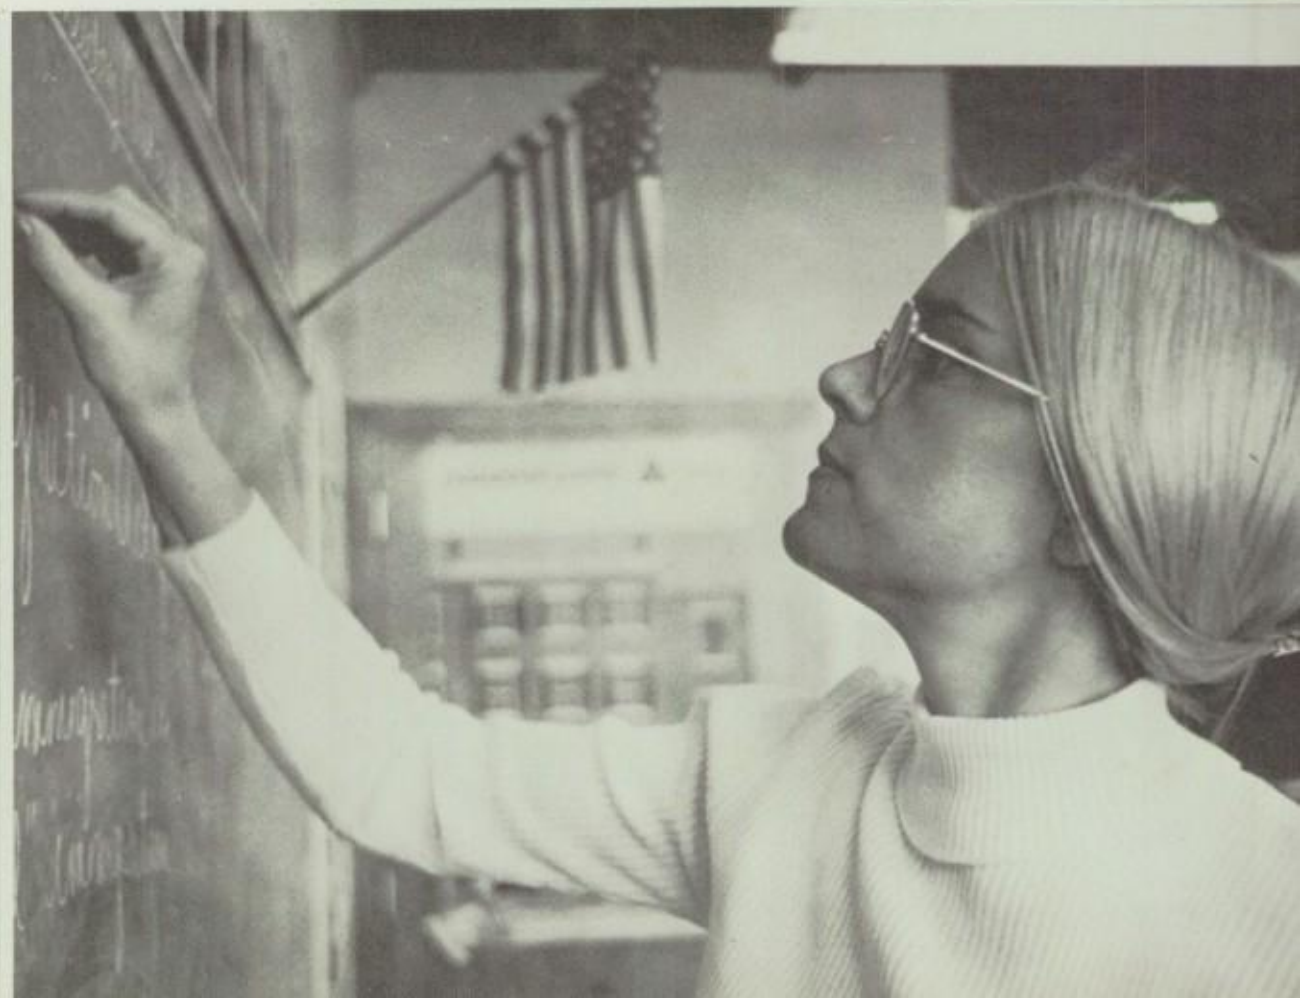

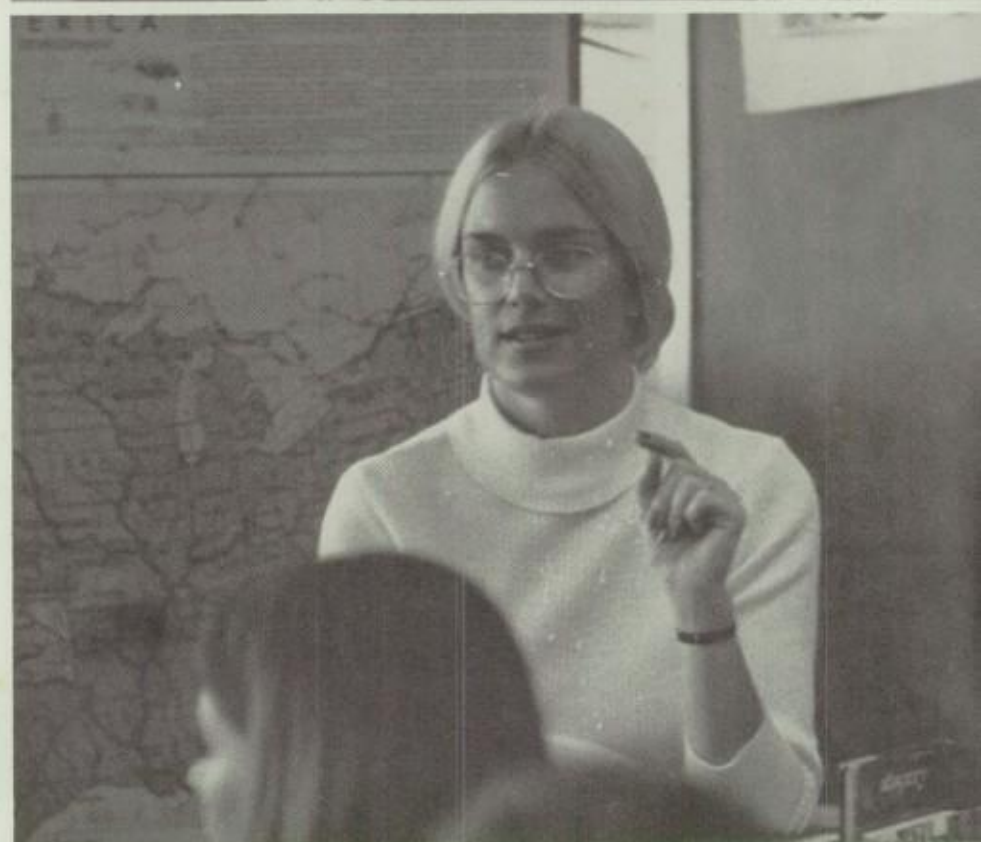

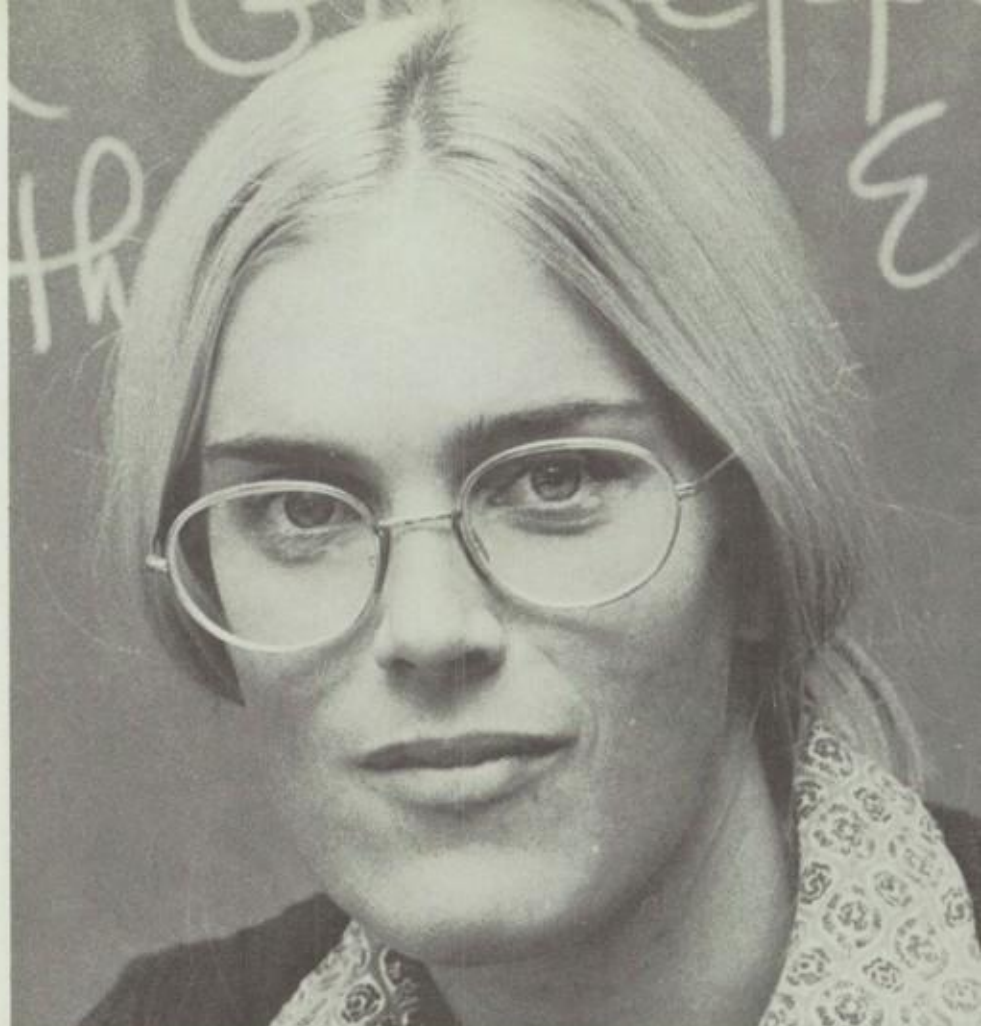

Someone whose devotion to teaching has become an inspiration to all of her students, causing them to discover within themselves a desire to learn and to become more aware of the events taking place around them.

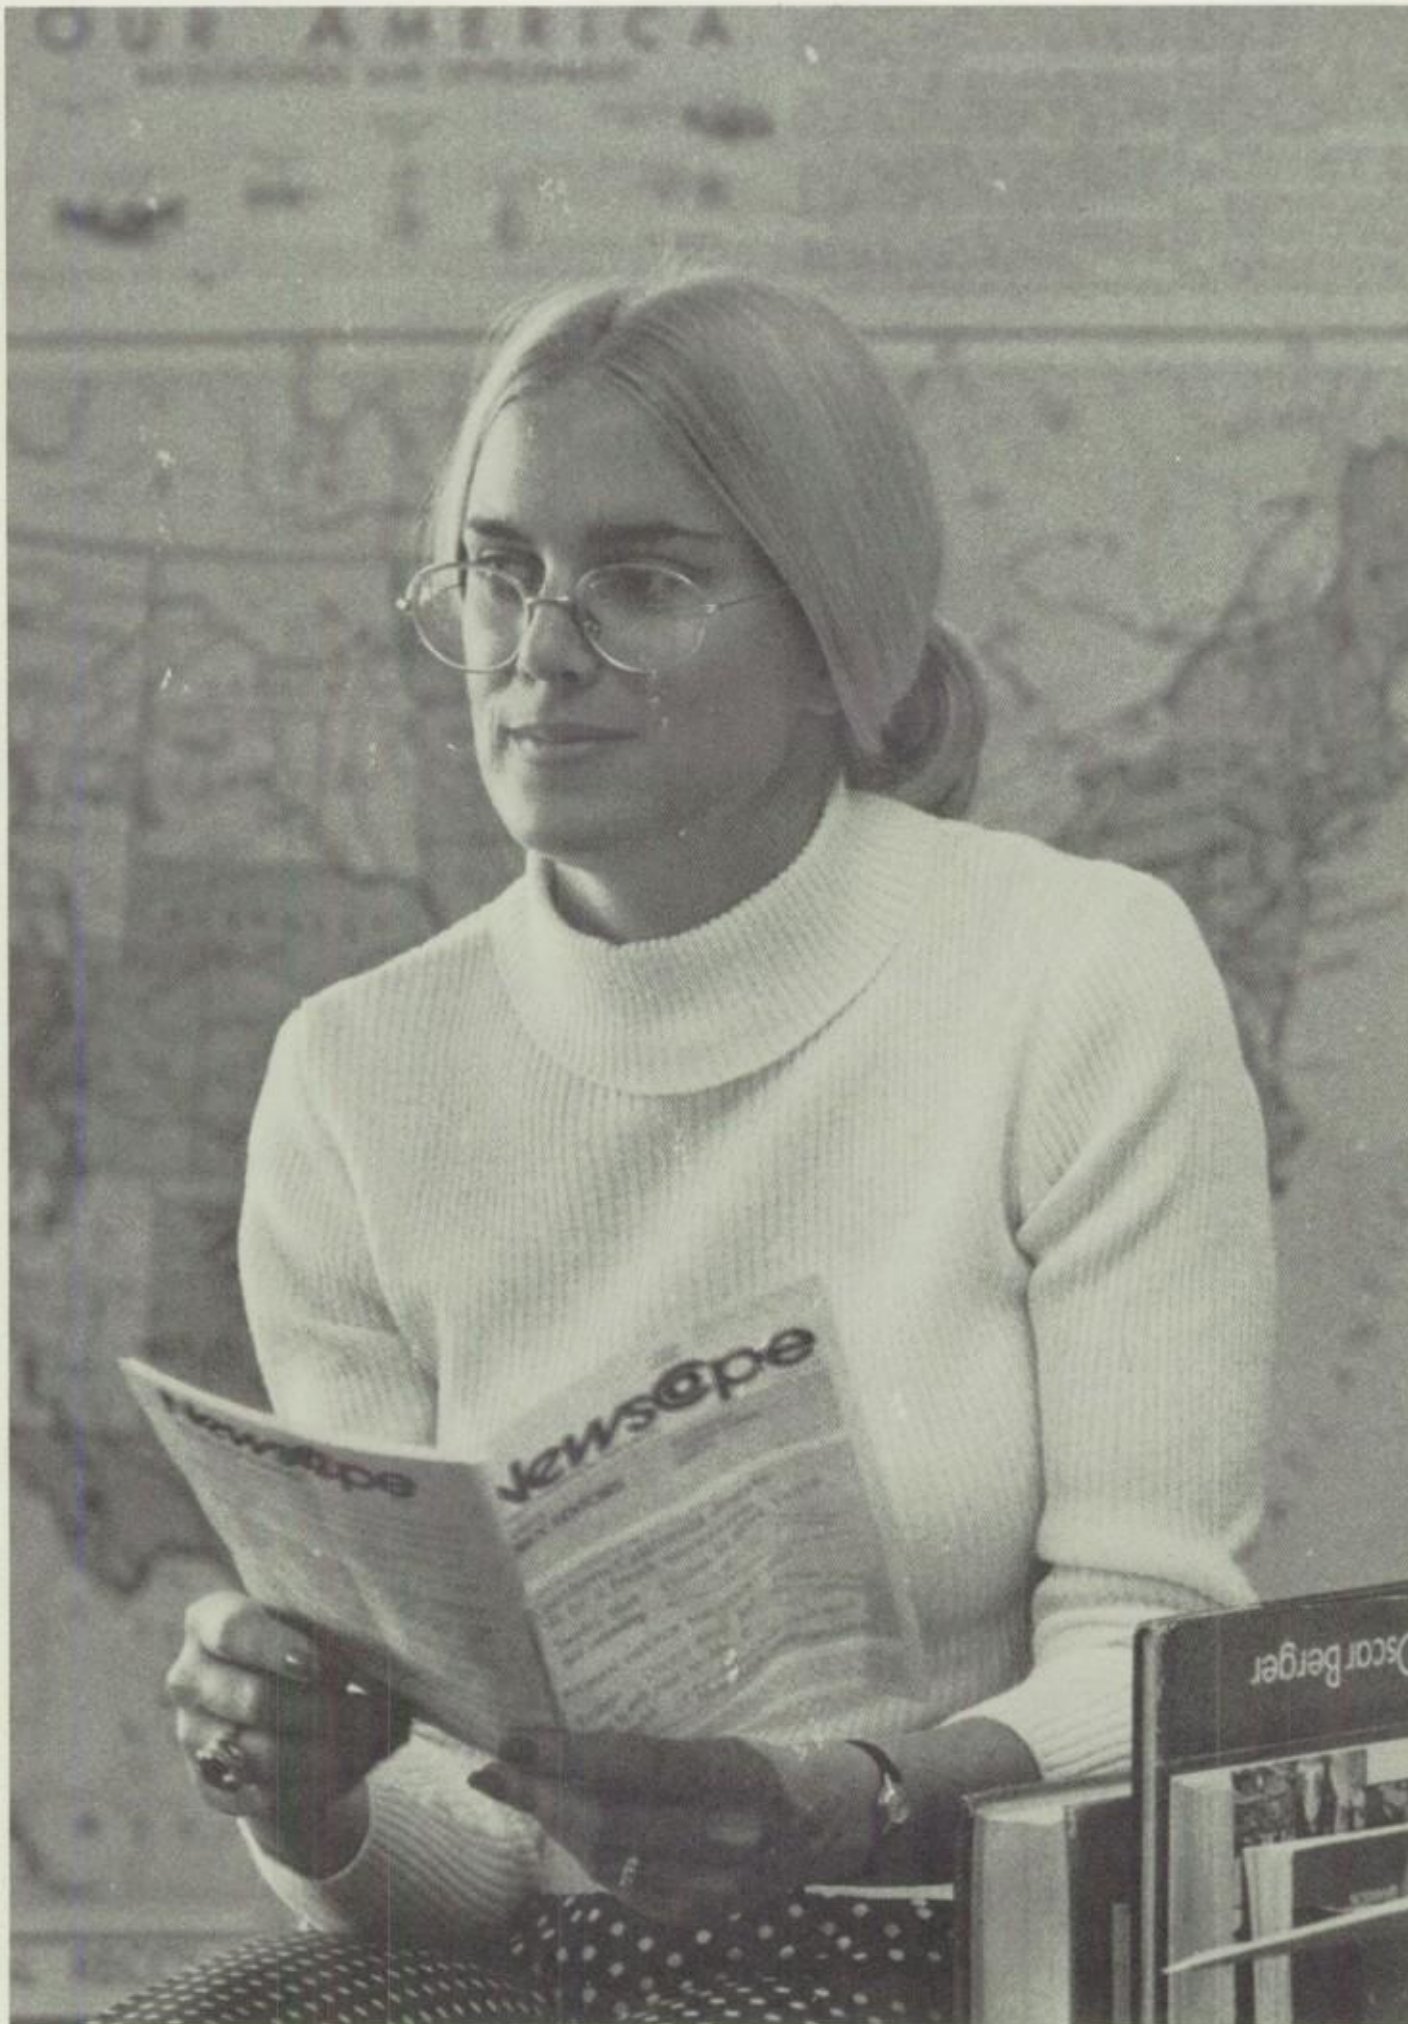

Someone who delights in seeing her students acting out in the form of song or drama, the history which has greatly influenced their lives.

Someone who finds in history something new and refreshing which she can share. She has a love for learning as well as a love for teaching.

Mrs. Davis, someone who has become an important contributor to Briarcliff, a great teacher, and a friend to all.

This shield symbolizes a well-rounded person. Someone who has excelled in all four areas: scholarship, leadership, service, and sports. The blue background represents Briarcliff spirit.

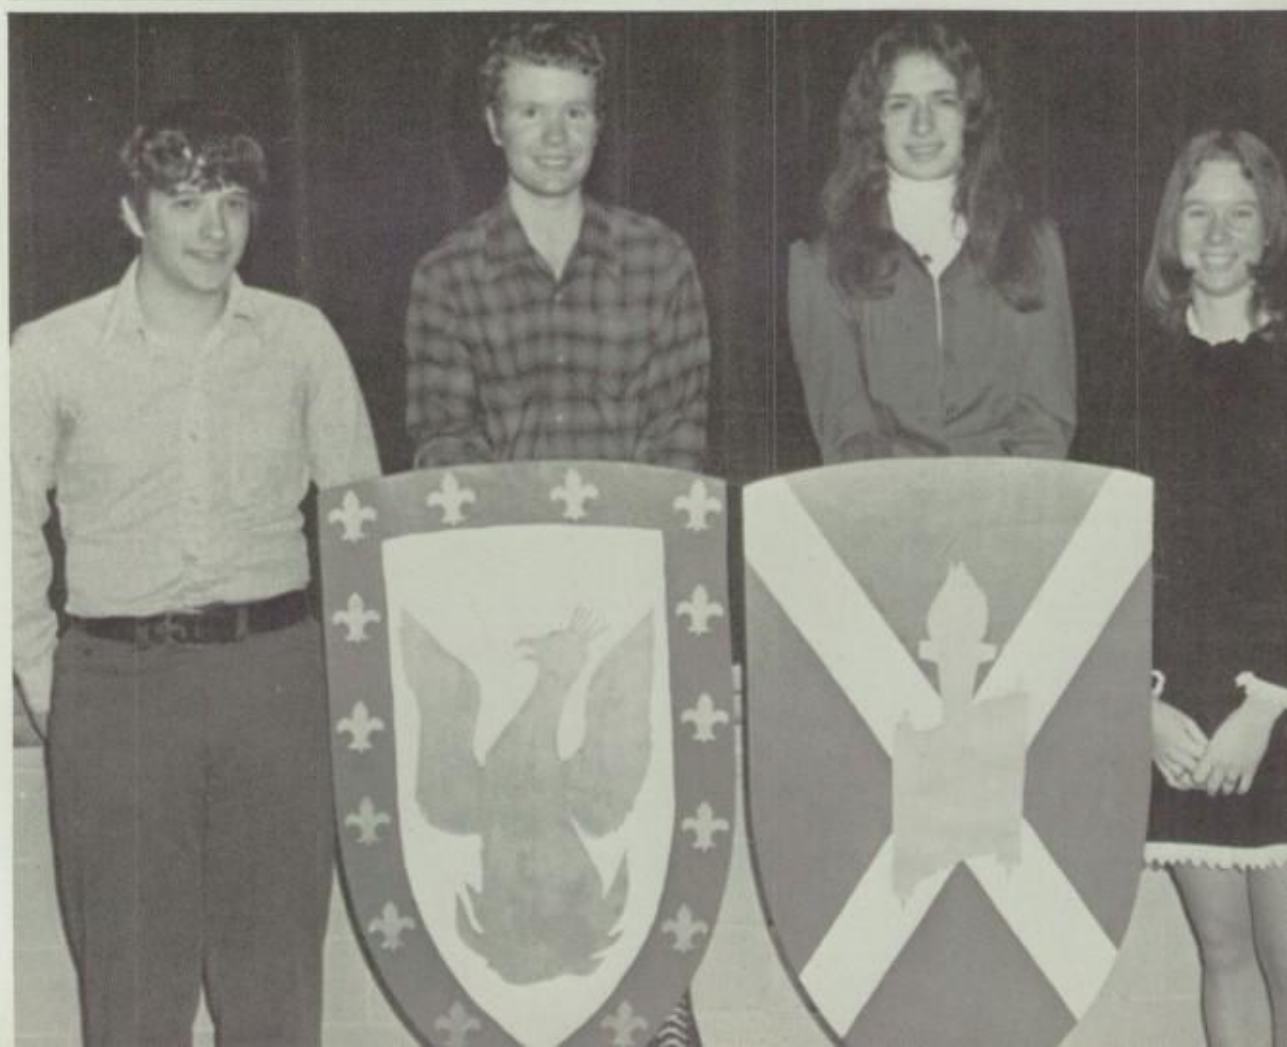

Mark Langsfeld

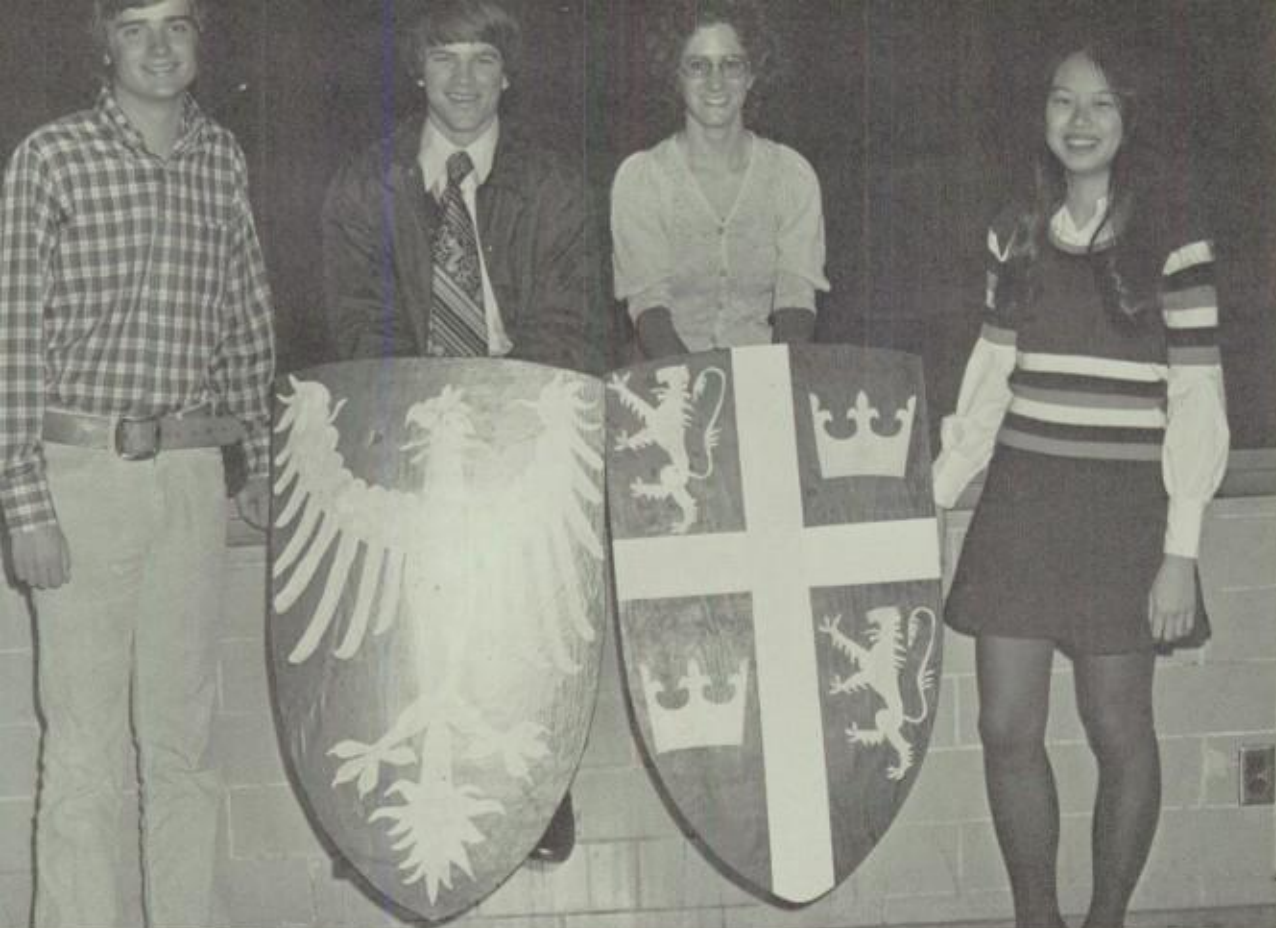

Order of the Lamp

This shield symbolizes scholarship. The blue and white background on both the girl's and boy's shields represents the fact that the student has not only excelled in knowledge but has also been involved in other activities while at Briarcliff. The scroll and torch on the girls shield and the phoenix on the boys shield represents the process of learning and eternal knowledge.

Jim Herndon
Jimmy Knight
Diane Blicksilver
Michael Anne Browne

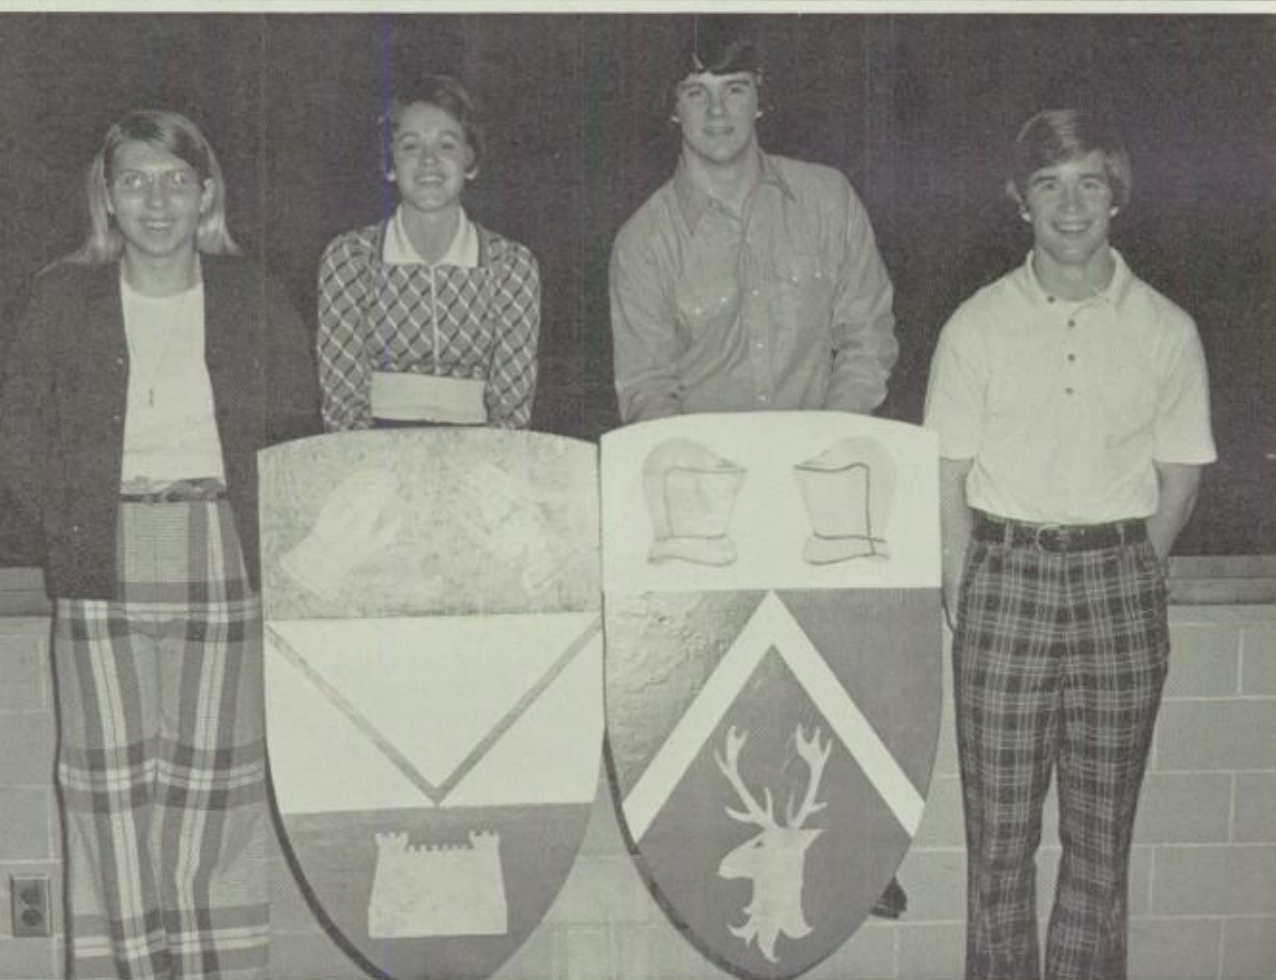

Order of the Gavel

This shield symbolizes leadership. The symbols on the girl's shield represents the strength needed in leadership and the outspread wings of the eagle on the boy's shield represents strength in directing others.

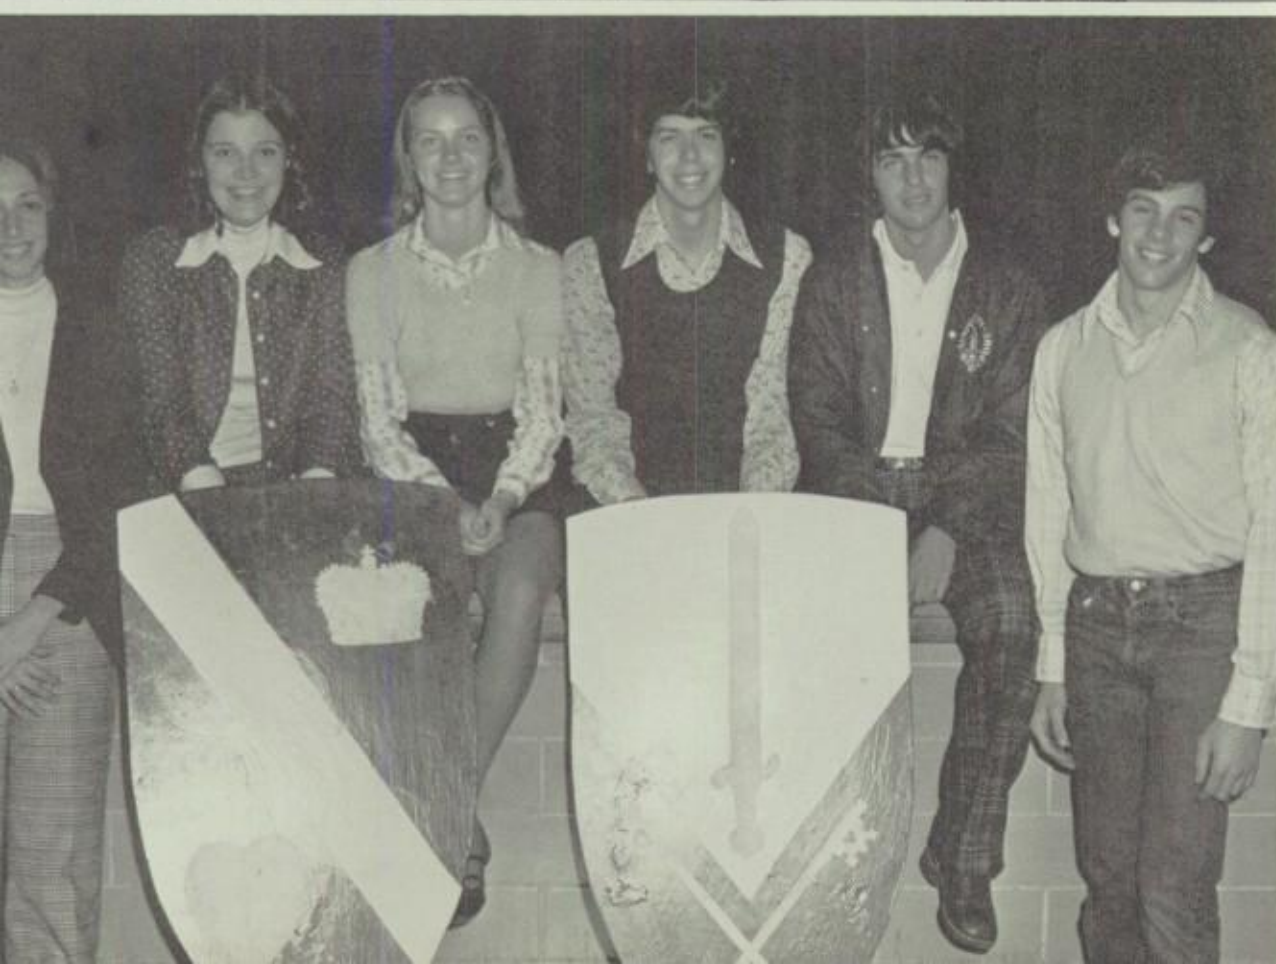

Chip Myers
Rob Holley
Susie Schwartz
Emily Ho

Order of the Gauntlet

This shield symbolizes athletics. The two bars on the girl's and boy's shield represent that they must participate in two or more sports. The three gold silhouettes on each, symbolize good sportsmanship — dedication and competition.

Dawn Gillerman
Beth Drury
Kent Callahan
Steve Cole

Order of the Heart

This shield symbolizes service. The two background colors are green and white. This represents that the recipients must be willing to give both their time and effort to their school. The heart on the girl's represents truth and sincerity and the keys on the boy's shield symbolizes the willingness to work together.

The 3 Losers: Horace, Skipper and Bonk! "Run it away from McGoo." Stonefingers Banko drops another one. Horace and Skipper are after Miss Count's little babies; (To *&'! with P.D.A.) The six day war begins today at 3:45. T.J. says "Buckle up for safety". Pain is 20 fifties after practice.

Run it towards the Baronettes! Fresh Meat! Péle vs. Wop. This team's got soul, not much talent, but a lot of soul. Yogi and his Picnic Basket (K.G.). "I think this team is an X-rated Glee Club." Johnson's Stadium; like playing on I-85. Happiness is crushing those smart-*! # B-Teamers!

Practice, Practice, Practice, where does it all go? Wierd Kickoff Returns and dude football. "Take your mouth-piece out, Osment, we can't hear a#%&! thing you're saying. "Coach, the MLO is killing me!" "Hey, Coach is MLO and X-Lax the same thing?" T.J. took our keys away!

P.O.B.B.S. * *Property of Briarcliff Baron Secondary. Yell 'BALL' or you will run till Saturday! Films, Films, more Films; they can not be that good, Oh, yes they can ... "Wing Right, X motion left, right 42, trap on 1!" Finch's Flops: $5 + 44 + 88 = ?$ Don't give up! Don't give up! Don't give Everybody down for the Golden V. Don't lose your scouting reports. On the field in 5 minutes. Pray for rain baby, pray for rain. Penalty period for cussing! X # @!! After Monday practice, everybody to D. G. (DeKalb General). Heck Yea Dude! Let's go Ma-Mas!! Kill 'em! On top of Old ... Hey, Boo-Boo.

All the way with Loin and Filet!!! That's the worst I've ever seen! Gatorman? Better hide your money after practice. Beefwagon. Victor's on the rag again. Banko, did you bring your DUDE KNOCKER to Athen? '52' Elrod, Blue. Eagle Bingo Fire! Reep, Cool it. Get them Gators, De-bonk!!! Charge.

Just one more time I promise! Let's Crock Rock. Do you think we could twirl flags, streamers, hoops, fire, two batons, and tin soldiers all at the same time? Was that a whistle? When are we twirling spiders? Like I said ... Who's the leader around here? Which end is up? HELP!!!

Hey 22, Go play on I-85! Looking good out there ... What goes up must come down, but who knows where? Terri, you're tripping out! Hey, what's next? Tricia, you are three minutes late!!! Joan, you have split your hose; Do you think they will see it from the field? Where is Kathy?

Band

Due to the shortage of beer cans, there will be a party at John Lewis's house tonight. Check ya' later!! Raise your hands up to the sky, Briarcliff band is passing by! Sam, either you shut up, or I shut you up! NOT Chicago Tribune! When you say Briarcliff ... you've said it all! 25¢ Ed!!!

But I thought somebody 18 had to drive the truck? Ya'll make me so darn mad! Peaches 'n' Regalia!! You're so bodacious! Cross Keys — 0 Briarcliff — 66. Wren can play his tuba as good as he plays Cindy! Stay out of my office! Find your own! If we have to do this sliding block again I'll scream! Not again?

Now presenting Kingsbury and his concert tambourine. Martha and Rick = ODD COUPLE ... What's that smell in the trombone section? GREG! Slow down on those timp-toms! Cefus-Rah! Cefus-Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Not "Up, Up, and Away" AGAIN??? Are we professional or are we professional? Band after school today.

Baronettes

Our first game, oooh, I'm so nervous! Big and Little sisters! Wax lips — "Don't eat them!" "Ralph, get a picture of our peel-off, O.K.?" "Don't we get ten pages in the Shield, Miss Bush?" "You're a mess — a chocolate māyus! Get fired up! Who's going to Fred lake? I LOVE BARONETTES! Puss and Boots?!"

My back is breakin, my boots too tight, my hips are shaking from left to right — now left, left ... Beth Fristoe thinks everybody is "neat, ya'll!" A new hand routine, by Mindy and Susan? Mr. Collier's surprise! Two bake sales — bag lunches for supper and the unveiling at 5:00! BE AGGRESSIVE!

Don't accenturate your left. Shaking pinkies before routines. "Lori, please yell out the counts during the routine." "Susie, my left ear itches!" Old Baronette proverb say — "She who wears gym shorts to Baronette practice will be very sorry!" Any other announcements? Yes!, I just want to know who loves Baronettes!?

The three Red Devils, the Carrot, and Bobby Barons. The bod squad is great! We are super! We are tough! We are super-super tough!!! Team two make nine dozen cookies, but not chocolate chip! Emily: "Miss Bush, do you have any more gloves?" Tina and Janet have to do a routine for being bad!

Day Rockett

That Reeks! You backs are coming down like a wet bag ... Up and running! Ubba-Ubba-Tubert. When in doubt, hit someone. up-1, up-2, up-up! Don't get brought down. Hit and run; Hit and run. Beat the ball down there! Let's do a little K-R-A-B-ing! Caress the ball like a hot Taco. Sprint it!

No matter how many players the other team has, they can only put 11 on the field. Chi Cho, Bo Peanuthead, The sisters of the poor, Meathead. Twenty guys who stuck it out and did their best. To appreciate this team you need to watch them play. The numbers on the score board are misleading. GOOD PRACTICE! TAKE IT IN!

Fire! Fire! Tiger! Pass it around, no shot. Let down on defense. Square the wings Mike. Hal, go to the middle. I'm hungry for a win. Press Offense. Coach, my contact! Baseline! Lee, don't give up the baseline. Set it up guards. We're going after all the cookies. Grab the bull by the horns. Key the defense.

Swiftly gliding through the air,
Received and passed to who knows where.
The young brave hearts I have heard told,
Have nothing to give, nothing to hold.
Tossing, tossing through the air,
A lonely object in a mass of air.

Bouncing, bouncing on the rim,
Sliding neatly down again.
Up it goes, a five second try,
This time with not a rim to defie.
Swooshes neatly into home plate,
The buzzer sounds, but it wasn't too late. — Pam Olivent

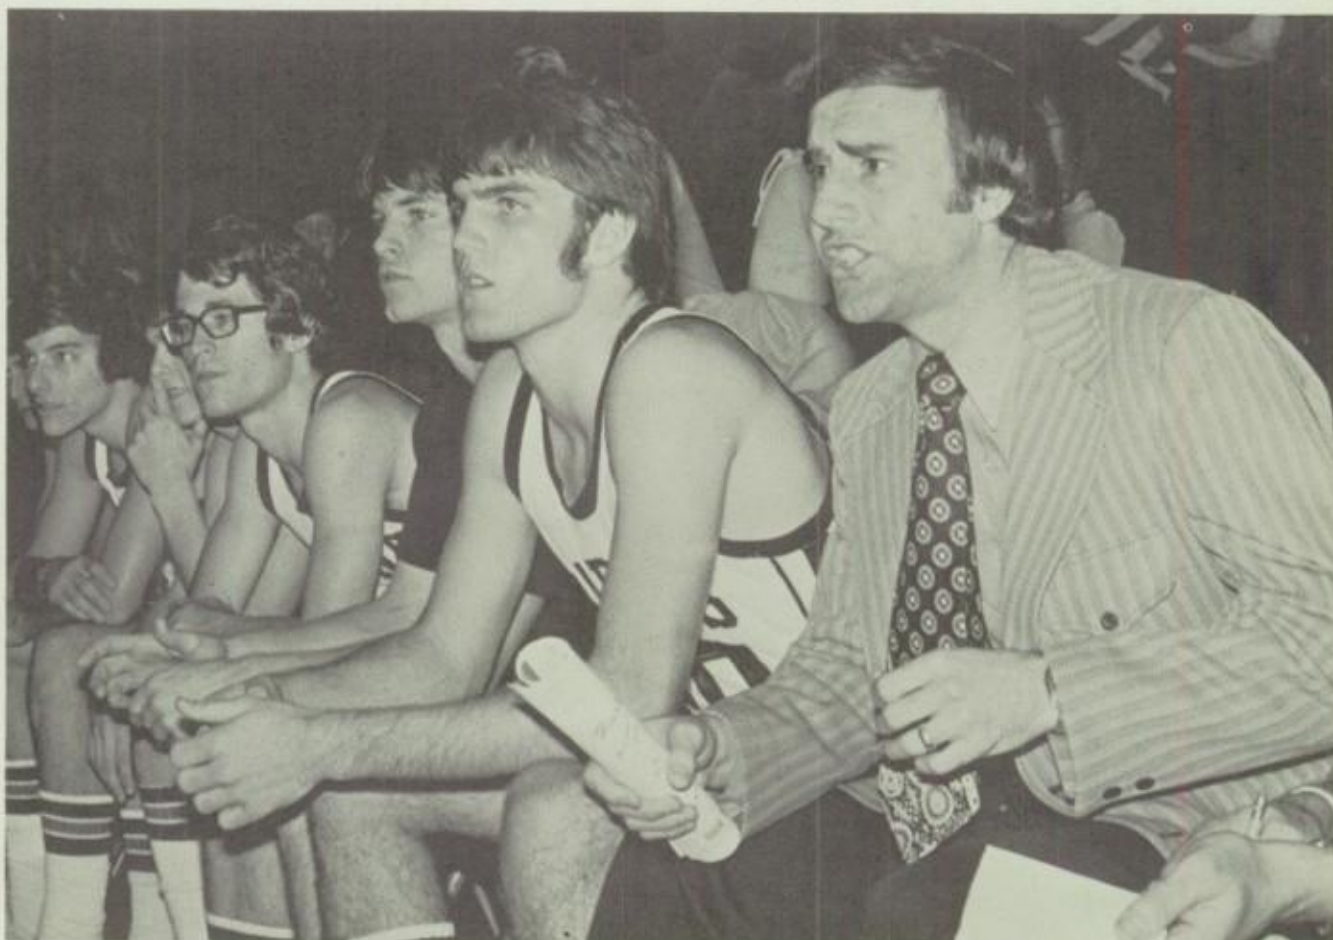

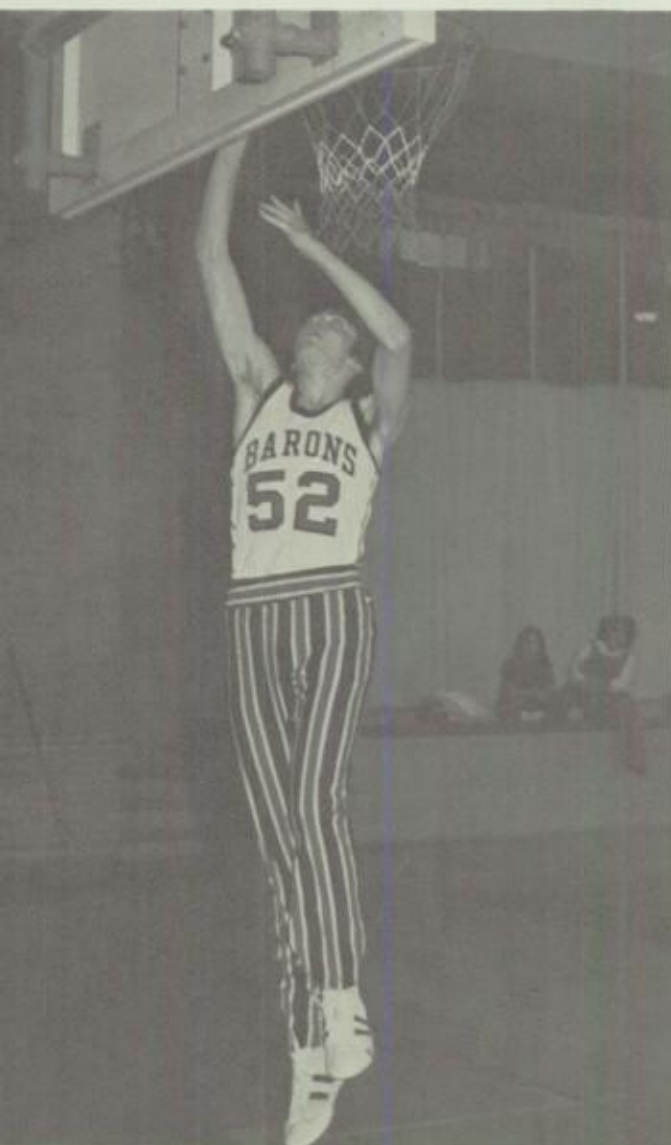

Crank it up! DEFENSE. Flipper. Guards, run the show! Quickness Drill! Where's your pride! Way to go, Irish! Skull Session at 5:00. Meeting in the P.E. Room. Kill, Kill, Kill, Destroy, Destroy, Destroy! Set your jaws! Kings drill, Art! Tim, stay on your feet. On the line for PRIDE DRILLS!

Get mean. A hellacious practice, Coach. Improvement is the important thing. JABO Power!! Can't we run trials? Don't finish last again, Hunk. Straighten up, Bobby. Copo trails. That's too many in Leon's car. JABO trails. Come on Weaver, Beat Copo once this year. Not another fight song, Johnson. This isn't soccer practice, Birch. Where's McCormick today?

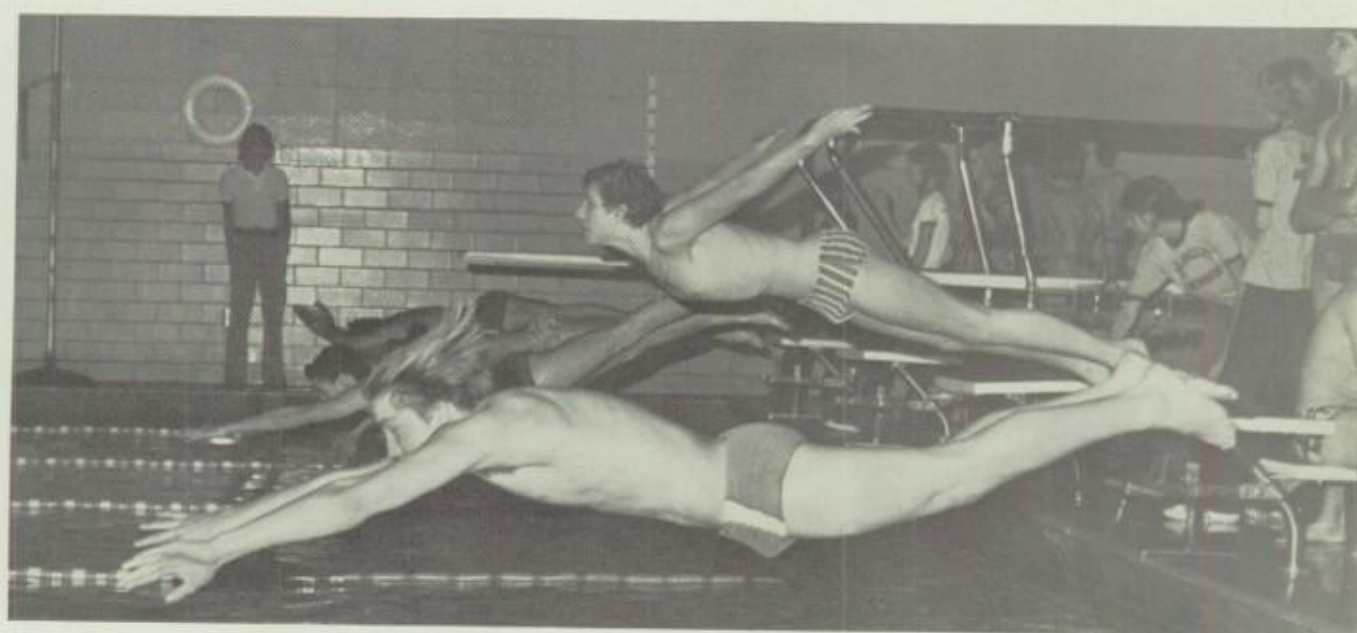

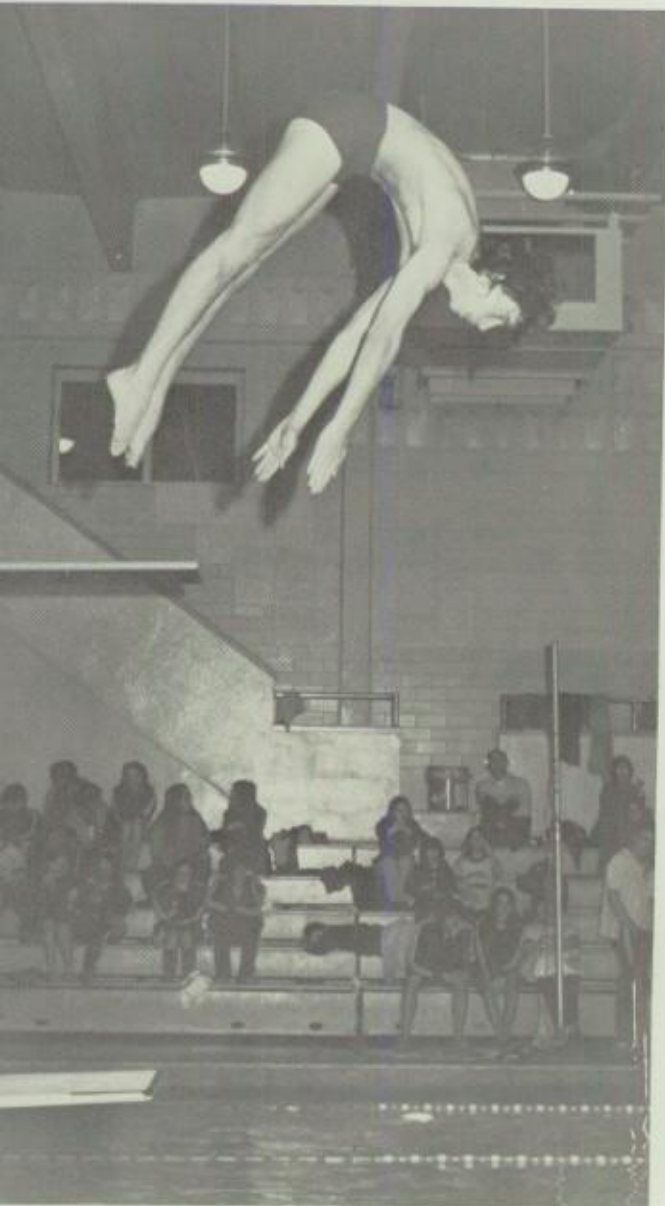

Golden "V". Dubious Distinction Awards: The Pete Johnson "Mr. Mean" Award goes to Steve Straub who killed 3 yellow jackets at practice one day while everybody else was running stadiums. The B. Copanezos "slippery as a snake to J. Burson, the 15th in Leon's wagon.

Swimming

People, you have GOT to work hard! Hurt ... pain ... agony. Alright, 50-50. I SAID 50-50! I wanna talk to the captains. You're not tired! You are NOT tired! If you're tired, go swim for some rinky-dink team like L. This place sounds like a morgue. I'm proud of ya. Coach Spellman? ...

... Never mind. Do NOT make a fool out of yourselves in these jackets. Every other team at BHS is a team, we're an army. Tonights workout is ... Winning is a habit, ladies and gentlemen. Unfortunately, so is losing. Girls, it will be within 5 or 6 points. Boys, right now it stands at a tie. This is shark country.

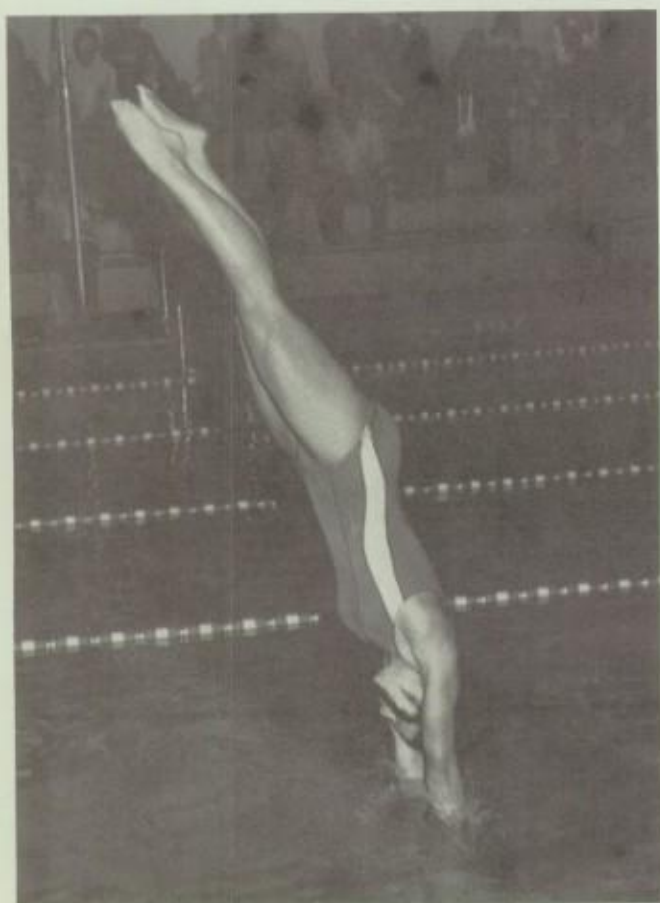

I regret to announce the Lakeside meet HAS BEEN CANCELLED. Okay you yo-yo, get busy. Do two 25's with no rest in between. This is not a 50, just do two 25's. The way I look at it is ... Come by my room some time today. Mr. Hallford wears his jacket all the time. If the girls don't win by at least 100 points, they're gonna suffer. Got any three's?? GO FISH!! Coach: What's your problem? Swimmer: I've got a cramp. Coach: You baby. Where's your pride? No workout is EVER the same. Get outa here, I'm talking to the captains. BHS! a little louder now, BHS!! You wanna go first? No, you go. No, you go.

Extend, extend, extend! Who is missing? Somebody is still in the shower? Hey, did you hear the latest twig joke? Flying Barons, fly? Come on people, get serious. Get your hair cut. Just four more routines. Keep those toes pointed. Every point counts if you are going to Region. Where are the parallel bars?? Stop showing off and give the rest of us a chance to practice. Did he really fall? No, he's just clowning around as usual. Which practice is first today? Who can show us the right way to do it? Cruse can. Let's practice again tomorrow after a good night's rest. Where's the party? We have a good chance of winning!!

Girls Gymnastics

Janice, get out of the chalk tray. You don't even work bars. It's the all time popular hit — compulsory free music. I'm so fat. Now that's a nice color. How did we choose this one? 3:30 until 8? Why not?! 100% or nothing. Keep your back arched. But she always has such good form, what happened? Do it again until you do it perfect. You've got what it takes. Did you see the size of that girl's shoulders? Hubba Hubba. Slow down, make it look easy and smooth. Will I ever be off this diet? Who watches the scales? WE DO!! Mrs. "B" wants us all here on time. Pick me up first. Practice!

Baseball

A Homer! A-l-r-i-g-h-t!! We're in the lead now!!! Hey, Who's on 2nd? Keep third covered. Geeeeeze. Harvey Moe ... Mickey Moe ... Teddy Poo ... Baby ... Moon ... Let's move it, go BHS. B-R-I-R-I-A-R-C-L-I-F-F I-S T-H-E B-E-S-T!! Don't we have a batboy? Who? Pick me up early, I need a warm up. Whose house?

Legs ... Cat fish ... The thing is to ... The outfield seagull ... Ariba, Arriba ... Rudy Green Legs ... Funny ... Let's all meet at Mc ... I'm too tired to go out ton ... No, not that tired! We smeared 'em, but then they smeared us last time. Where's Coach? Suppose he saw it too? Strike! Outfielders go.

Orlando Alvarez, Ray Bovard, John Simmons, Mark Blackman, Michel Kahn, Teddy Petrides, Mike Tice, Randy Jaffe, Mike Blackman, Mickey Langley, Harry Haynes, Pete Bougas, Coach: Robert English.

Last one out treats. The pitcher saved the game!!
 Coach: This is the most important game of the season.
 Player: Didn't you say that last week, Coach? Outfield girl gossip. Bench warmers are the best. Where are the bats? WHO forgot the bats?? Let's start all over again.
 Who's on first? ... second ... The jackets are in the coach's office. Let's all meet at my house later. Game Saturday. Call everyone about ... Run, run, he's S-A-F-E! Watch third, they're watchin it really close.

 Another strike. We're in. Make it count this time. Keep it up T-E-A-M! Stay right in there. All the way. Great!

Golf

Steve Cole, Terence Douglas, Dick Fulton, Philip Manson, Ronnie Topper.

People don't know how good we've got it. People don't know us at all. Is this a six-iron or a seven? Terrance has been in more sand today than Lawrence of Arabia! Who was doing 90mph? What did hips shoot? A what? Oh #?! We're only 30 strokes behind. What we need is a mini-Jack Nicklaus.

Forest Hills sure isn't Augusta National. Fulton has got a 34 going into nine. Mystery Valley's greens are like peanut brittle. We've got to get some girl caddies. The only sport where practice is more fun than the match. All this course needs is grass. Par 4, 410 yards straight ahead. Easy.

Volleyball

Spike it. Spike Adams. We're loaded this game! How High is the net? Don't get CAUGHT in the net! Hey, Where is the referee? TWINK! Where is the banquet going to be? Is the coach coming today? Fingers are important for volleyball! Get up in the air! Set it up! "Gentlemen, and I use that term loosely, you have to be psychologically prepared to play any sport, especially volleyball." Rattle-um! All the way to state! Dig um out of the floor. Jumpin' Jew strikes again! Right on!!! Hey man, when is volleyball homecoming? Volleyball pep rally sixth period today. Hondo Valley! I forgot you were the volley, Coach!

What is sports without fans?
What is a fan?

A fan is more than a spectator.
A fan is an individual electrified by the competitive spirit surrounding the event.

A fan is so good at expressing his enthusiasm that he becomes an instrument of inspiration to everyone involved.

A fan will go so far as running around the gym in leotards, or being hit in the face with a lemon marange pie or biting off the end of a pom pom stick.

A fan is the final touch which makes sports worth the time and effort.

What is sports without fans ...
and Bleacher Bums?

MADNESS

Double bubble toil and trouble.

I wonder what they put in this birthday cake?

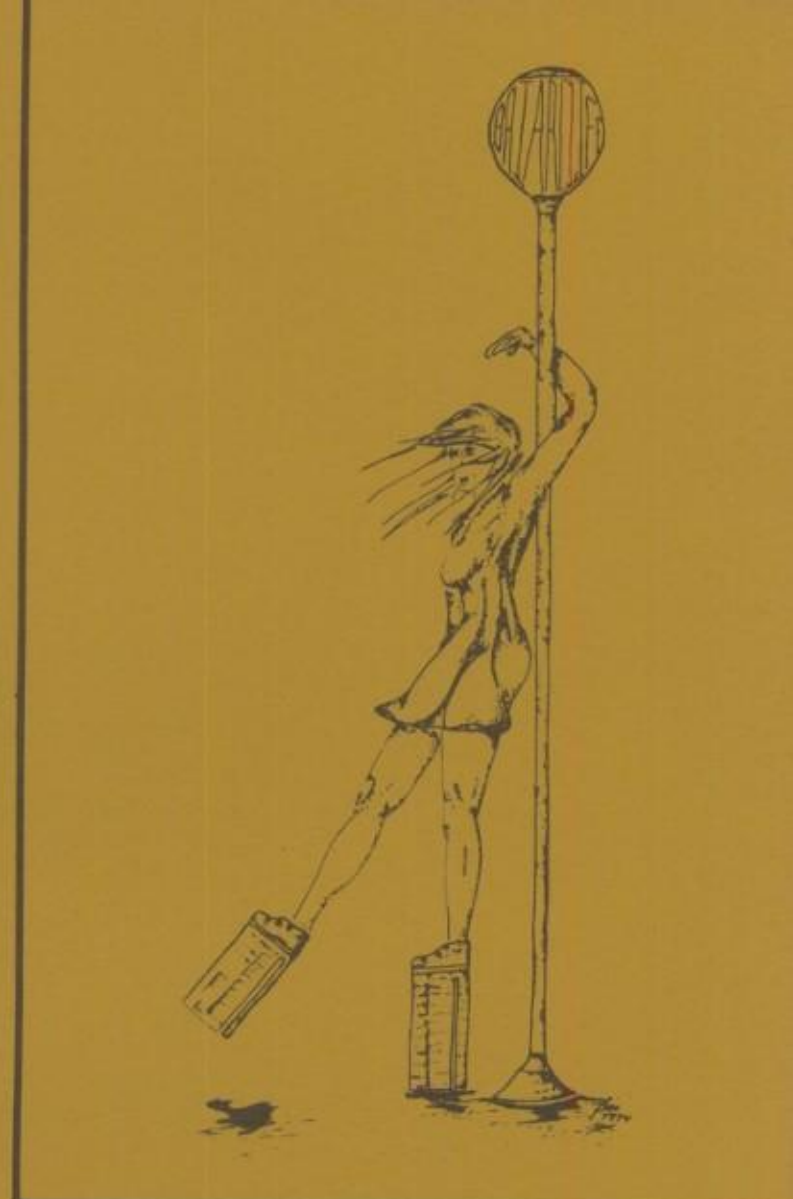

I always thought I was crazy.

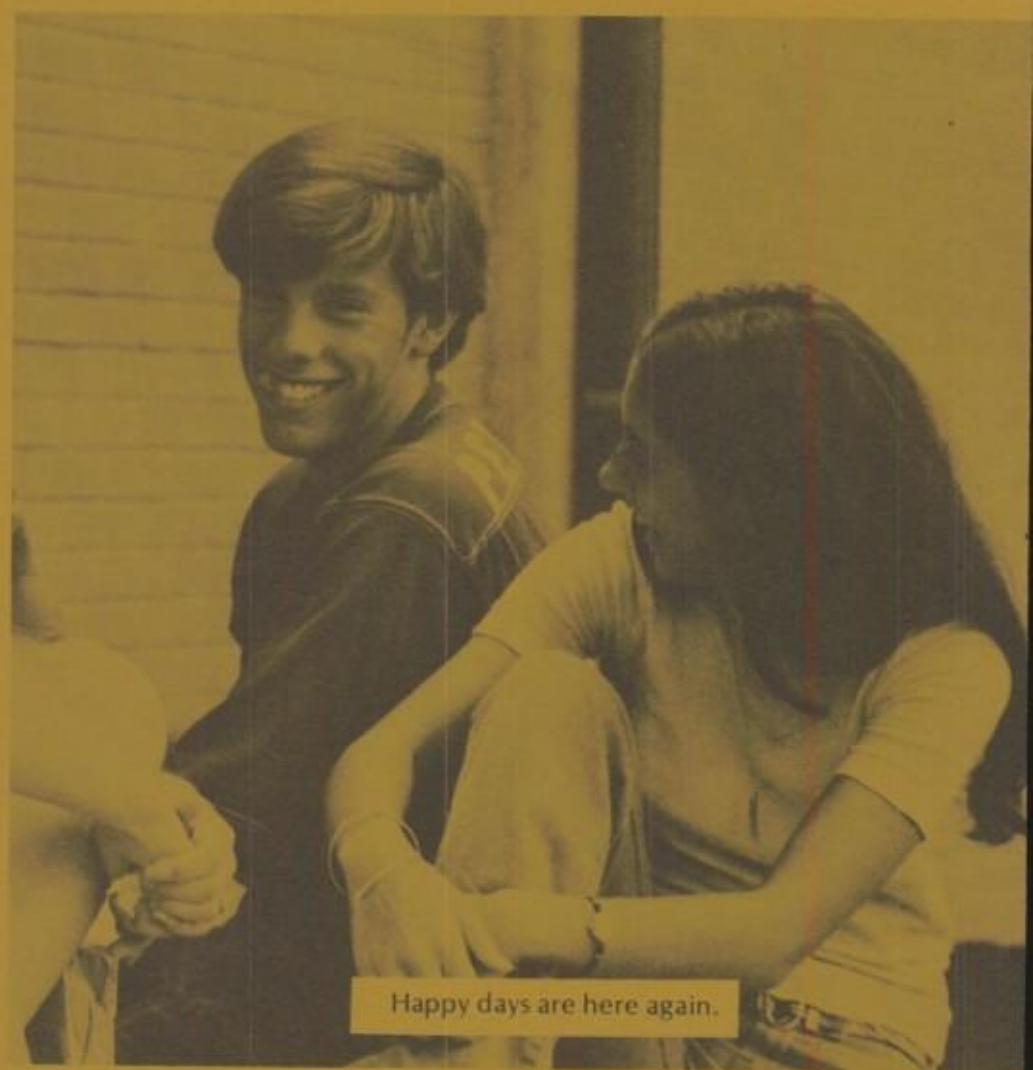

You scream ... Ice Cream

If it feels good . . . do it.

First you eat it, then you spit out the seeds.

Happy days are here again.

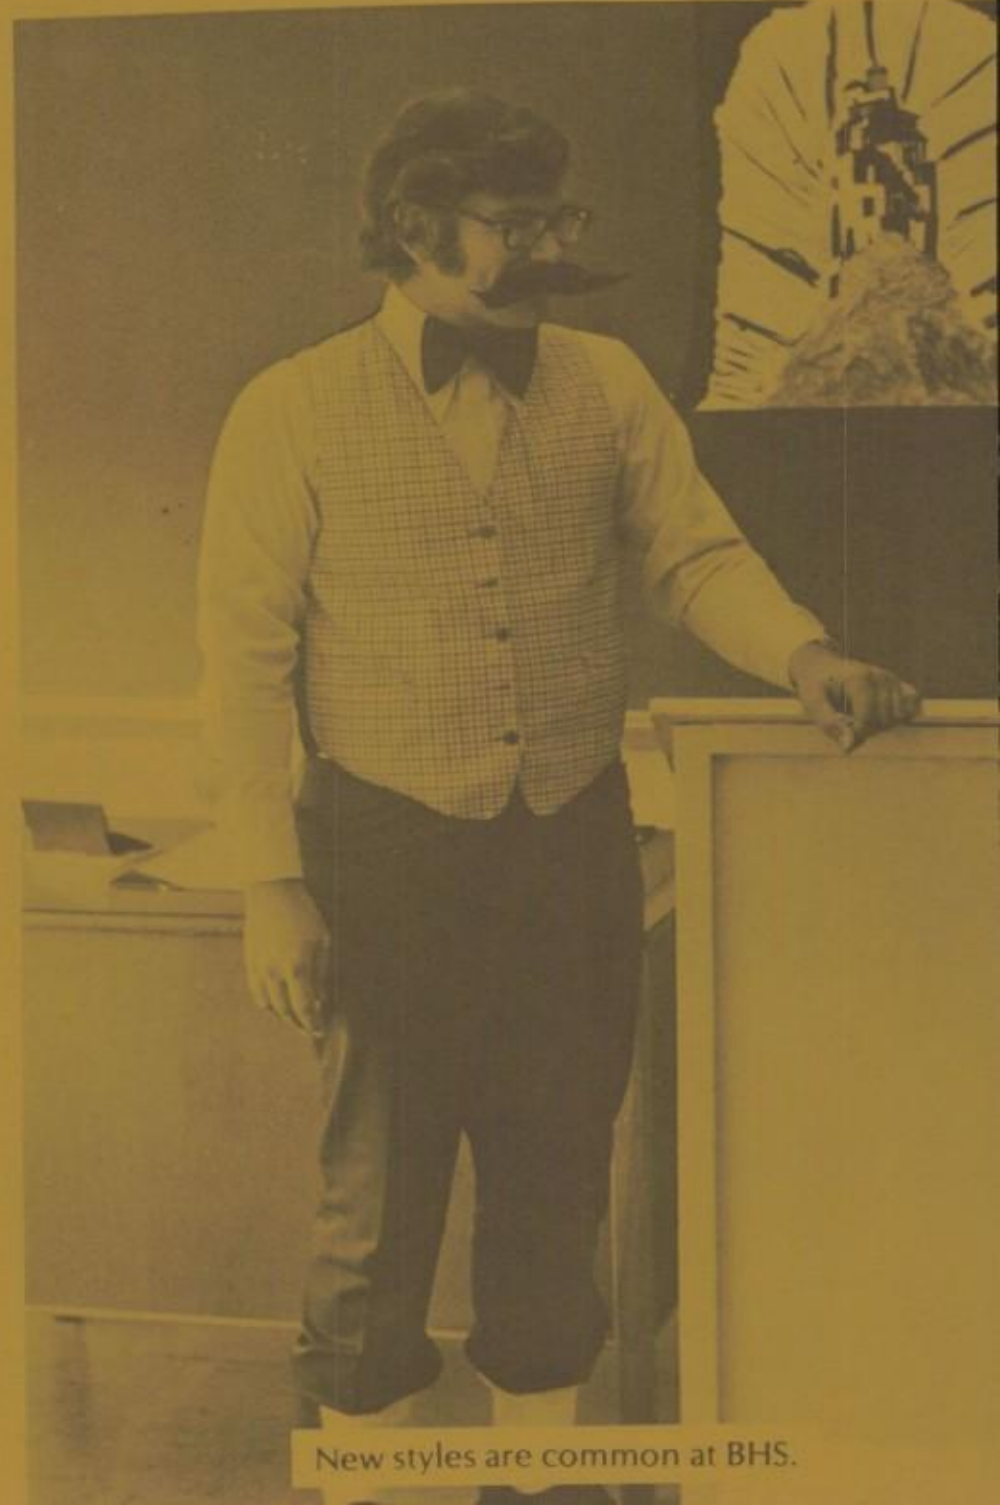

I'd rather switch than fight.

Dixie-land Ancient style.

What you see is what you get.

New styles are common at BHS.

Oh, We're just good friends.

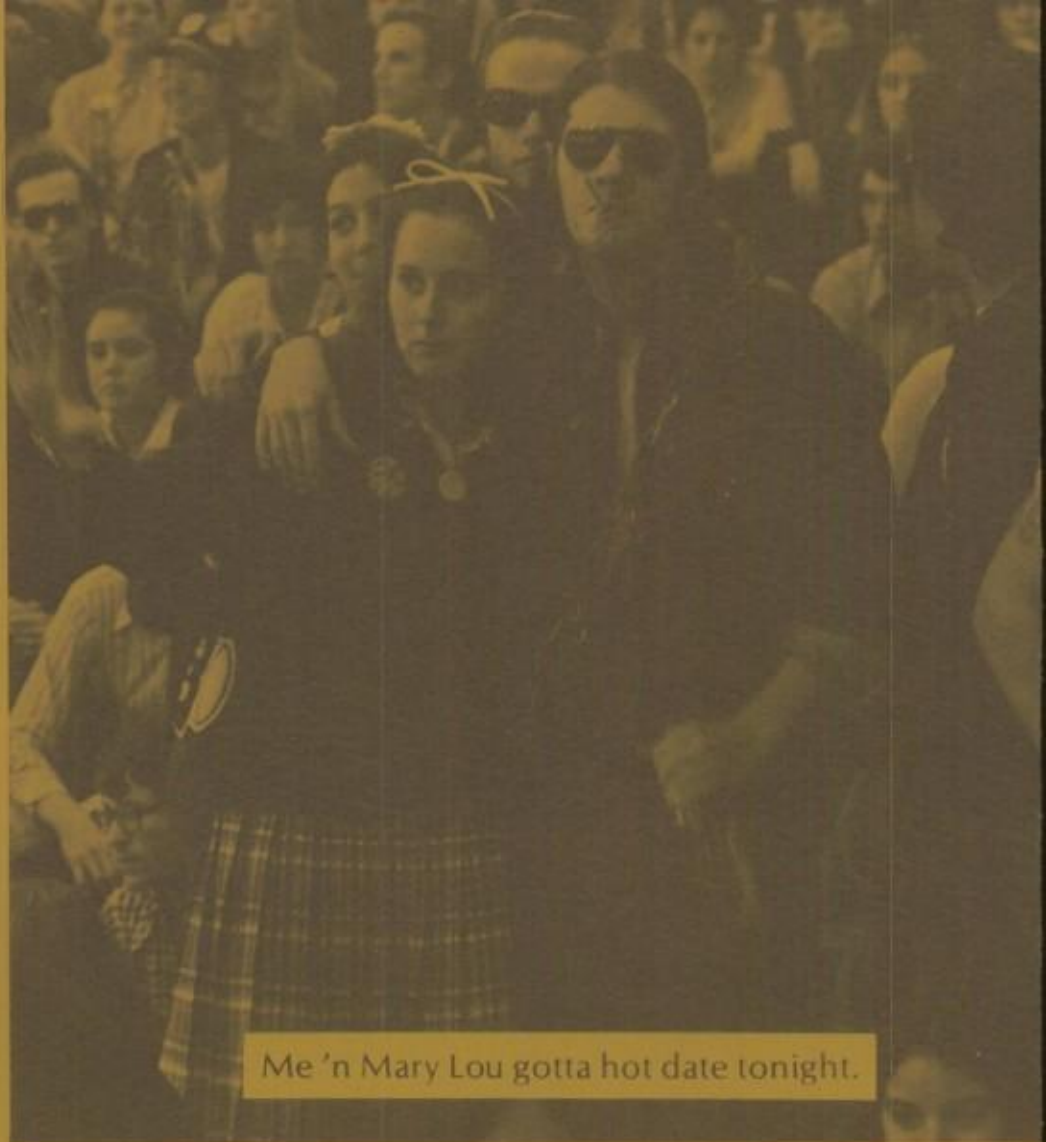

Burger Queen?

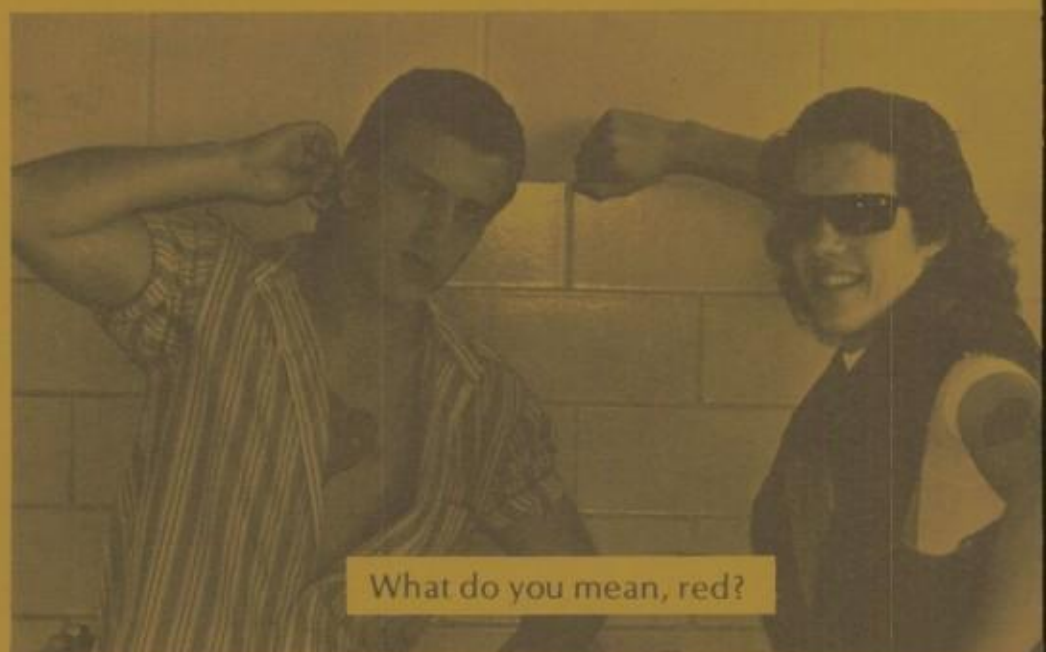

I can't believe that's me.

Me 'n Mary Lou gotta hot date tonight.

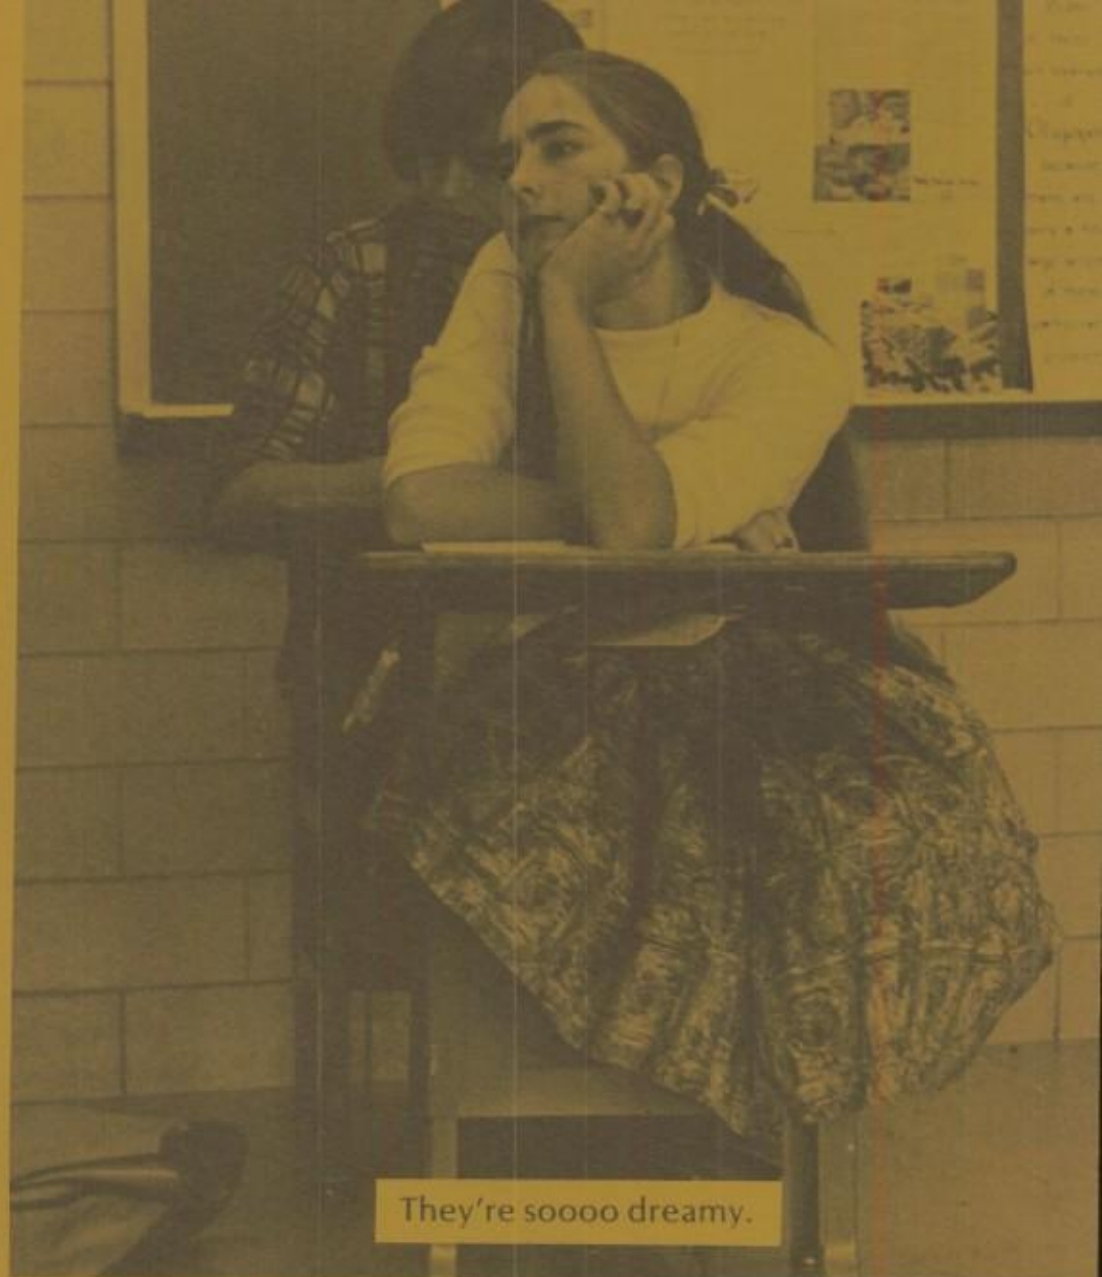

What do you mean, red?

Awww, I gotta get a har-cut.

We're evil dudes.

They're soooo dreamy.

We're practicing for the hop.

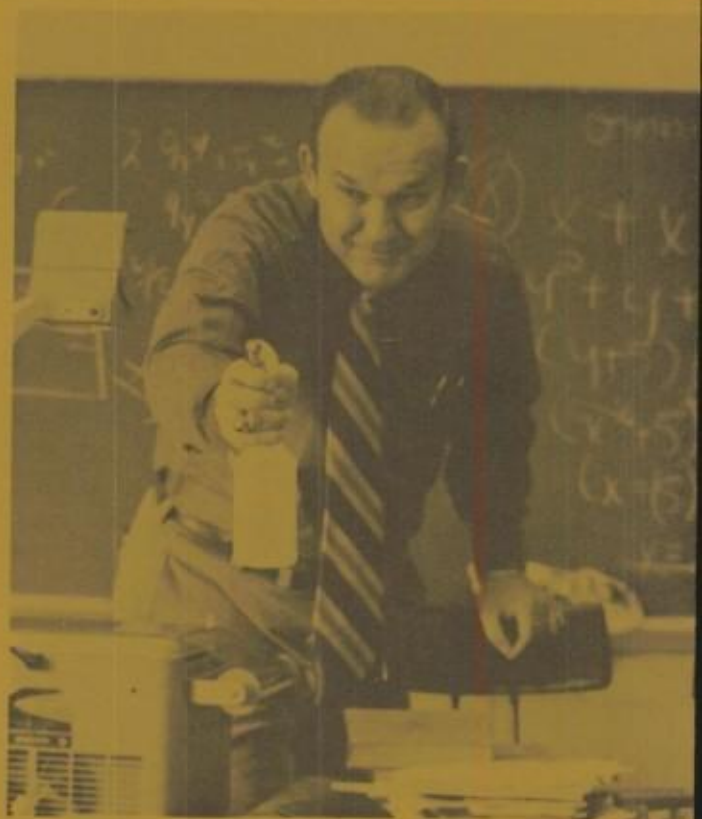

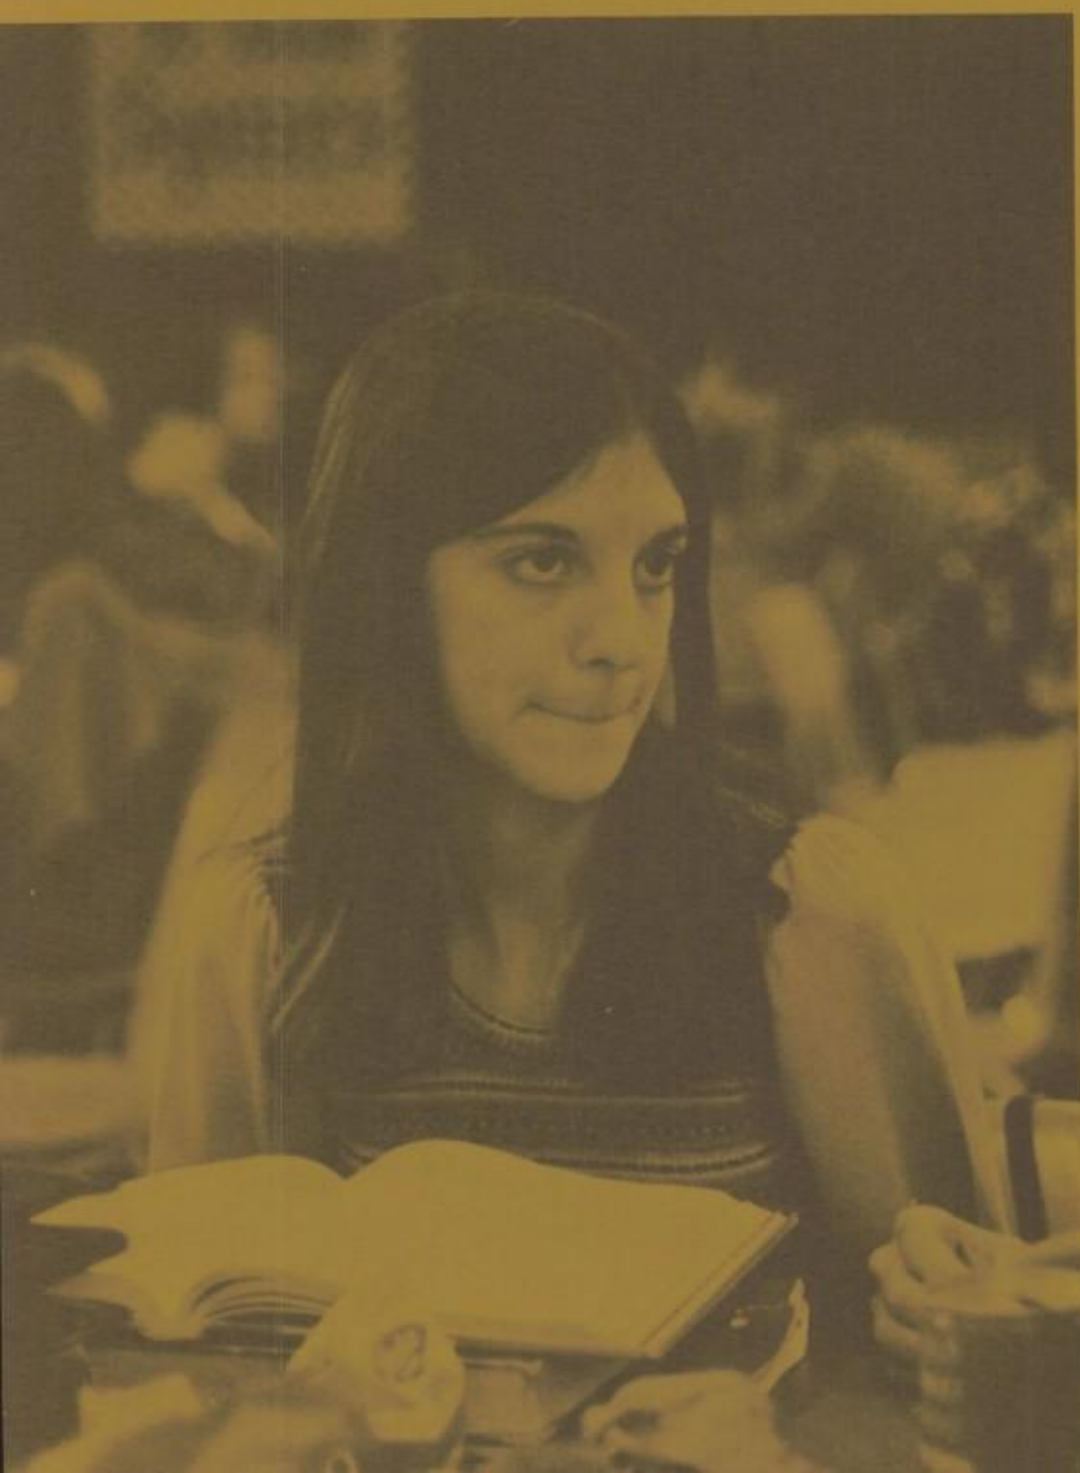

He's the leader of the pack.

Ain't we the living end.

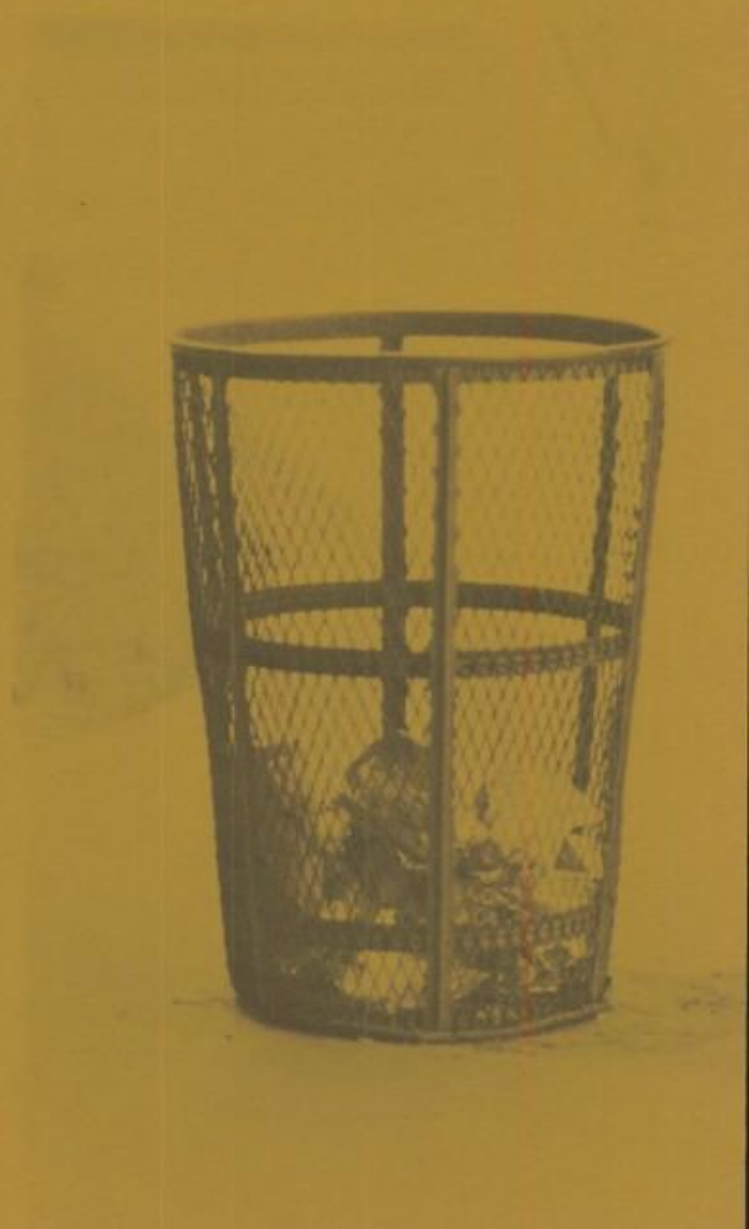

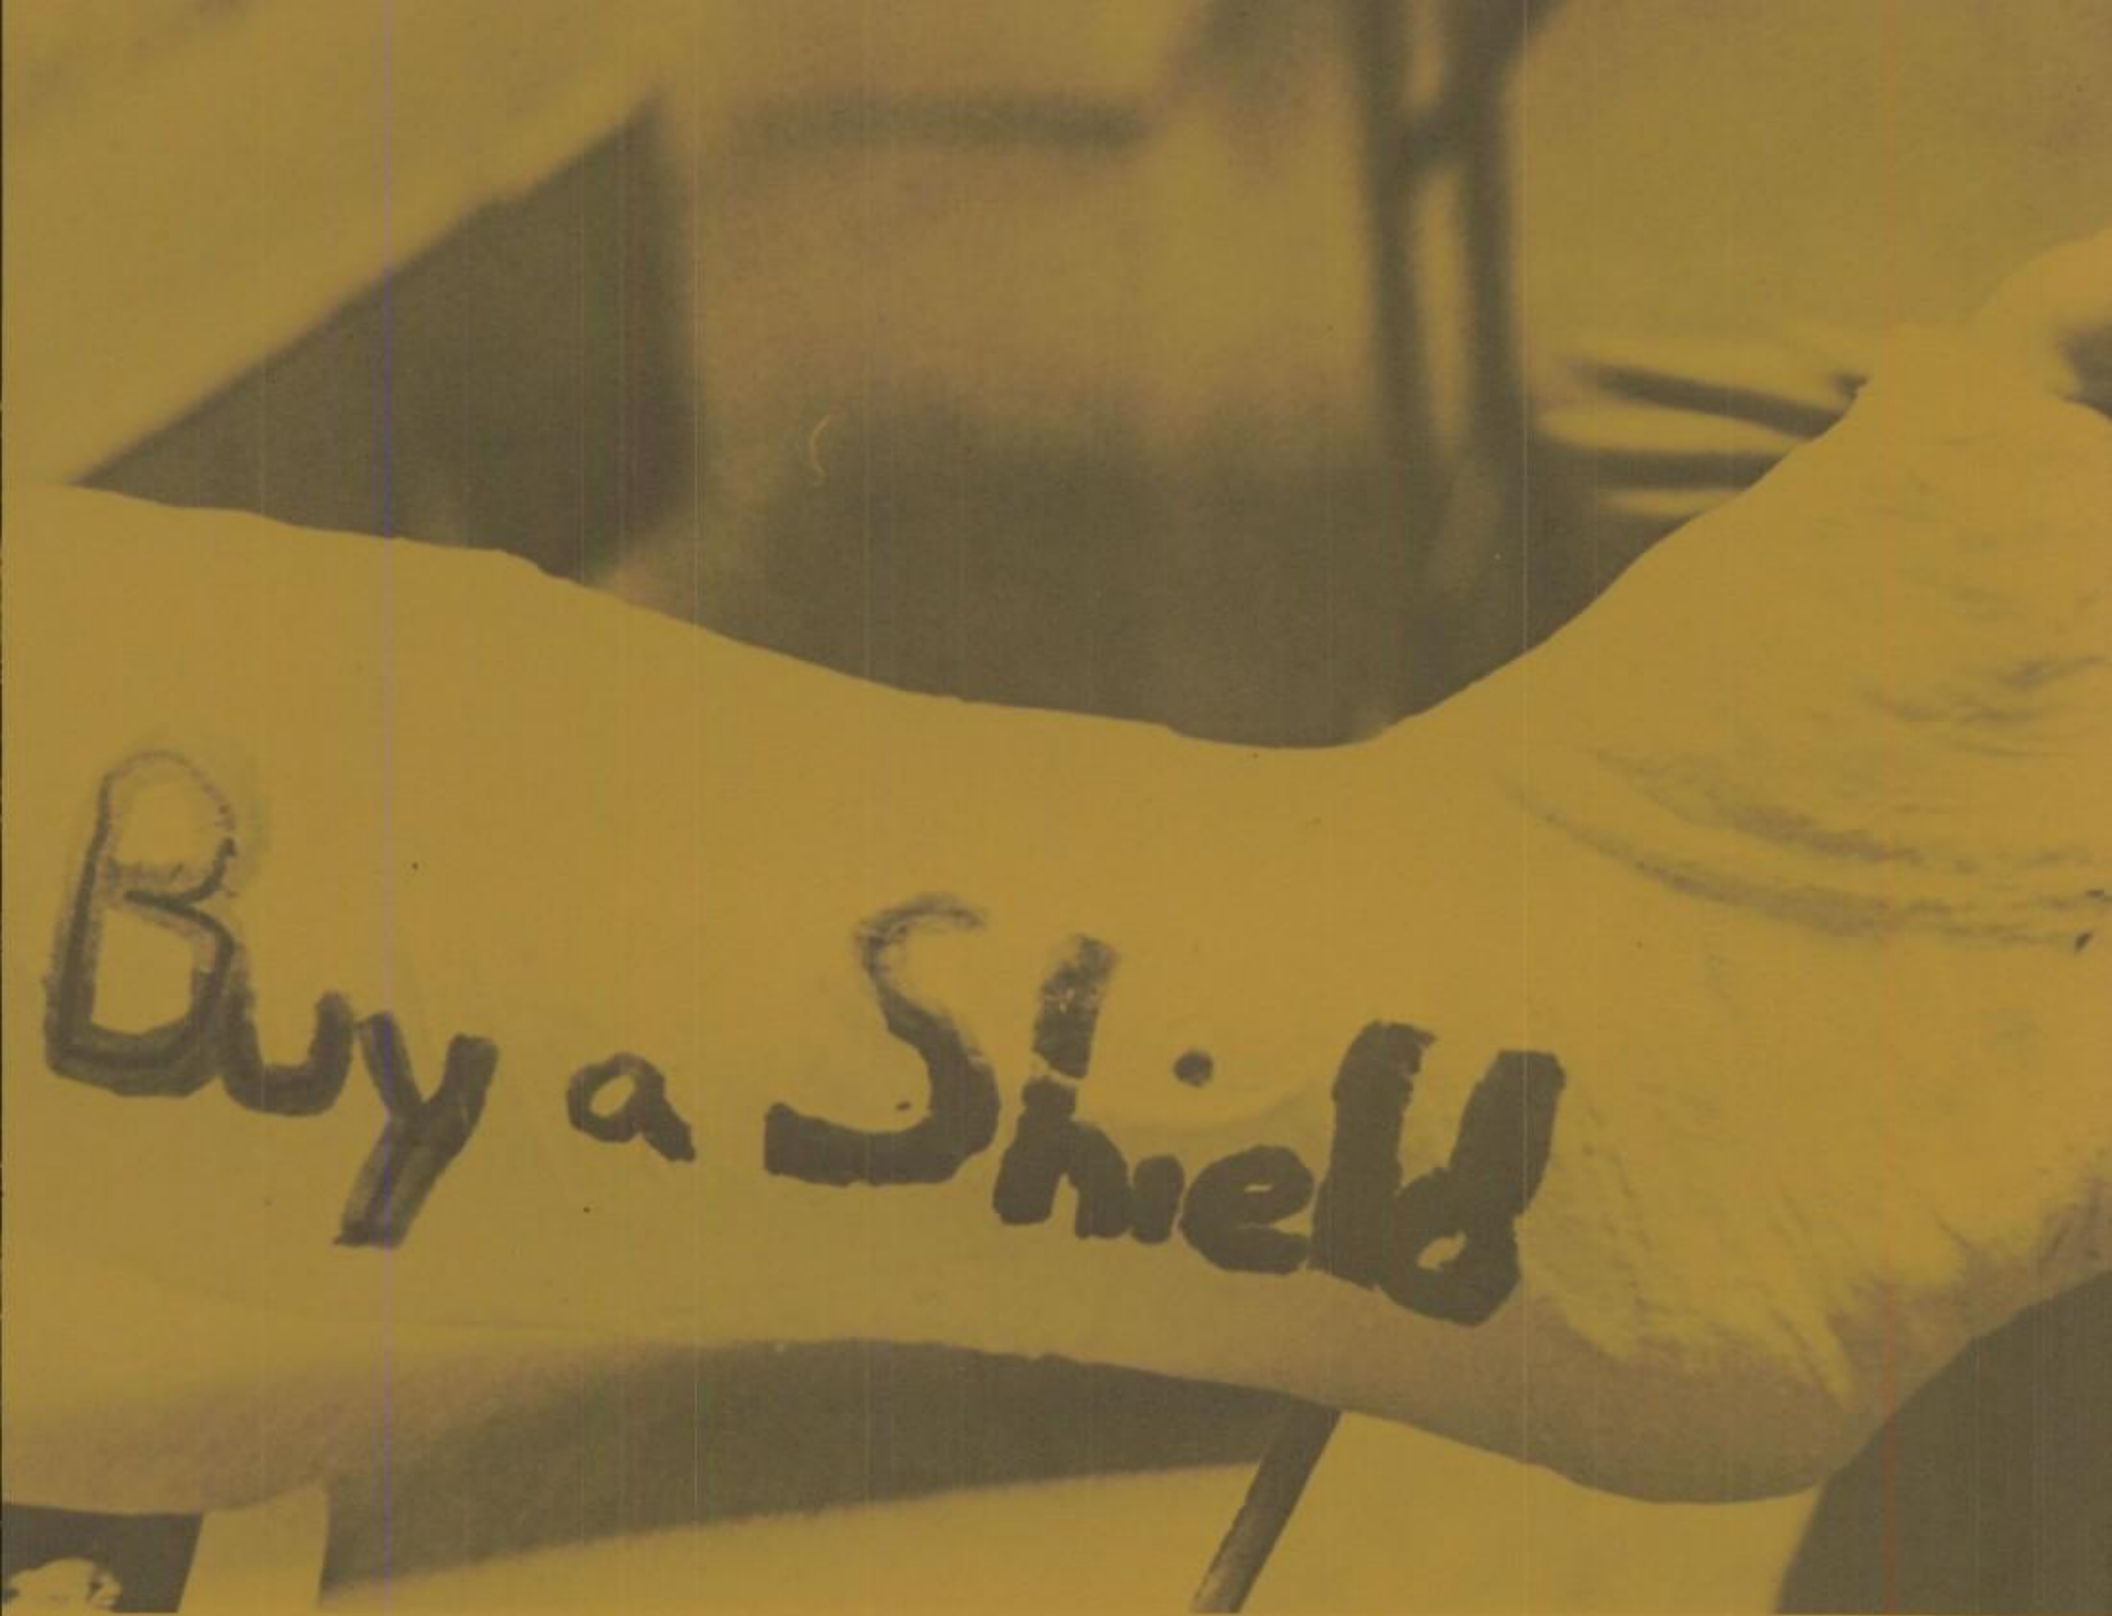

Robert Ross to Ferd Nord,

Here's to all the work we did in W.H. & track / Yea buddy!
Here to sleeping in the pits! (hic-up)
Here's to killing subbies! / Yea Buddy!
Son, I tell you what, you owe me,

FACULTY

Ernest Hallford Principal

He has mastered the psychology of man. He can draw from his students and faculty the maximum degree of ability which they possess. He is confident in his singing and calm in his conversation, yet his authority is definite. Ernest Hallford will long be remembered by those who walk the halls of Briarcliff.

Assistant Principals Byron Collier Lee Saye

Briarcliff has two assistant principals with equally important functions. Both have a professional manner yet possess those personal qualities which are imperative in relating to both students and teachers. Mr. Collier, as a disciplinarian, displays firm student/teacher relations. Mr. Saye holds primary interest in the academic welfare of the student. He questions the validity of courses and tries to initiate new ideas for future curricula. When regarding the activities of Briarcliff students, each can always be depended upon for faithful participation.

Foreign Language

In the relatively brief history of Briarcliff, the Foreign Language Department has earned a reputation for excellence throughout the state of Georgia.

The Foreign Language Department is responding to the new mood in language teaching current in this country. Some of the new experiments include a Spanish newspaper, full length French films, and an introductory language course "Ports of Call." Briarcliff is unique in that it offers both Hebrew and Chinese. The Foreign Language Department staff is also participating in plans for a foreign language tour to Europe during the summer.

Briarcliff High can surely be proud of its outstanding Mathematics department. Besides individual teacher accomplishments, (Masters Degrees, Teacher of the Year Awards, Star Teacher) the math students have placed Briarcliff in the top ten schools in Georgia by their participation in local and state contests.

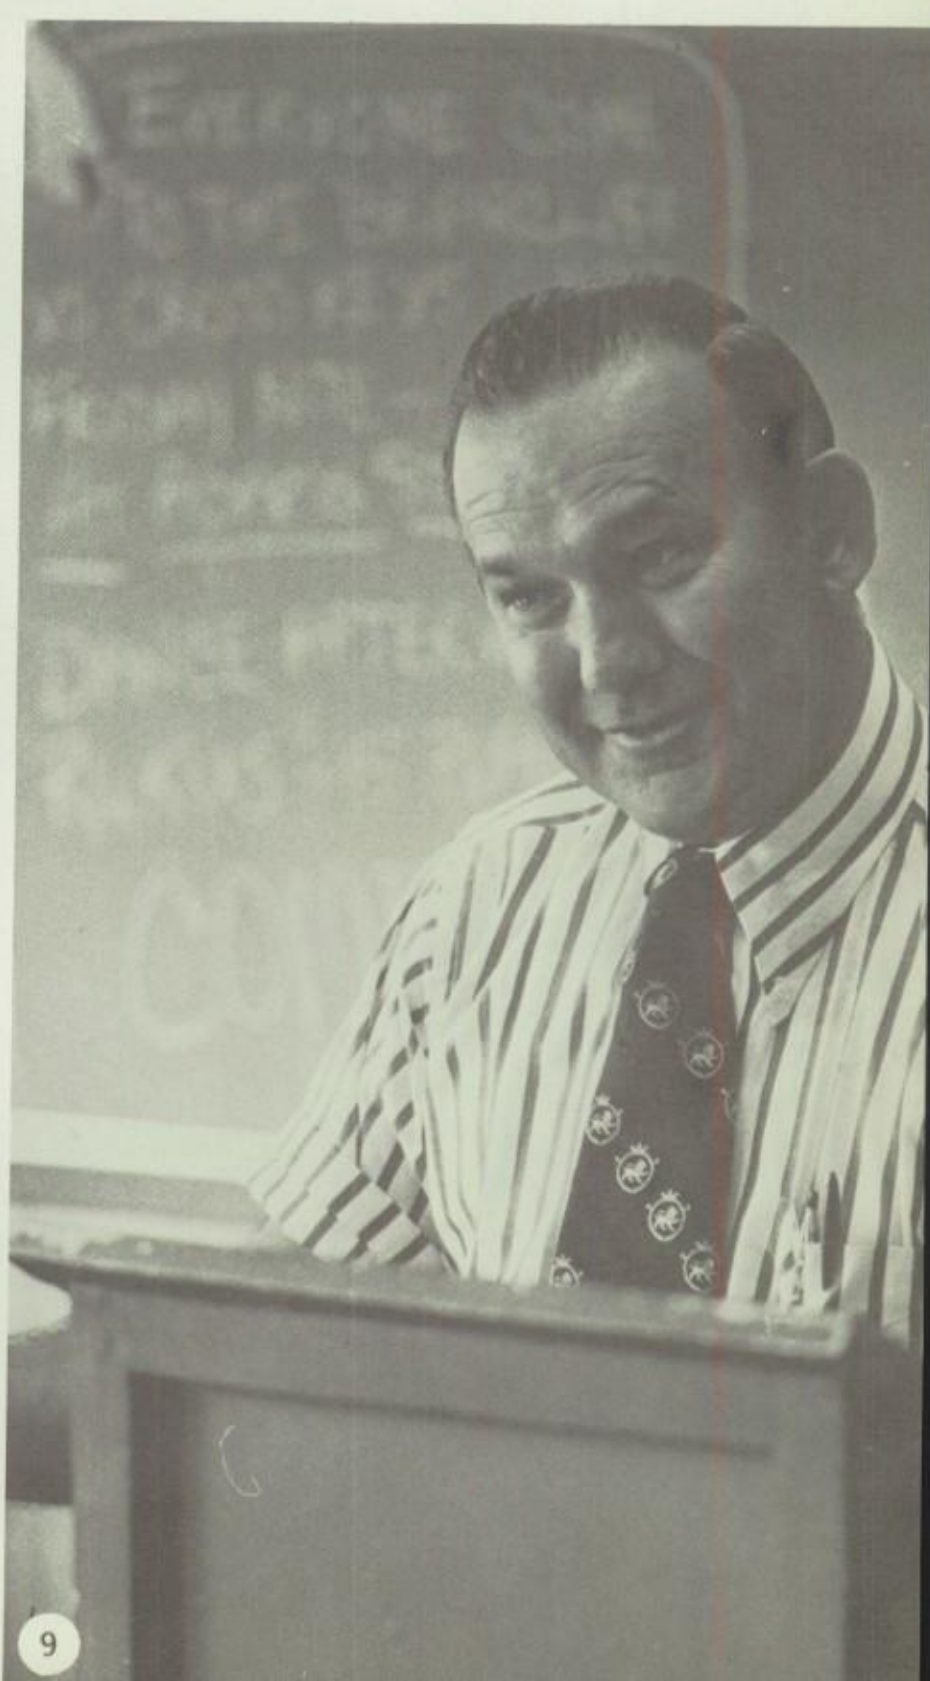

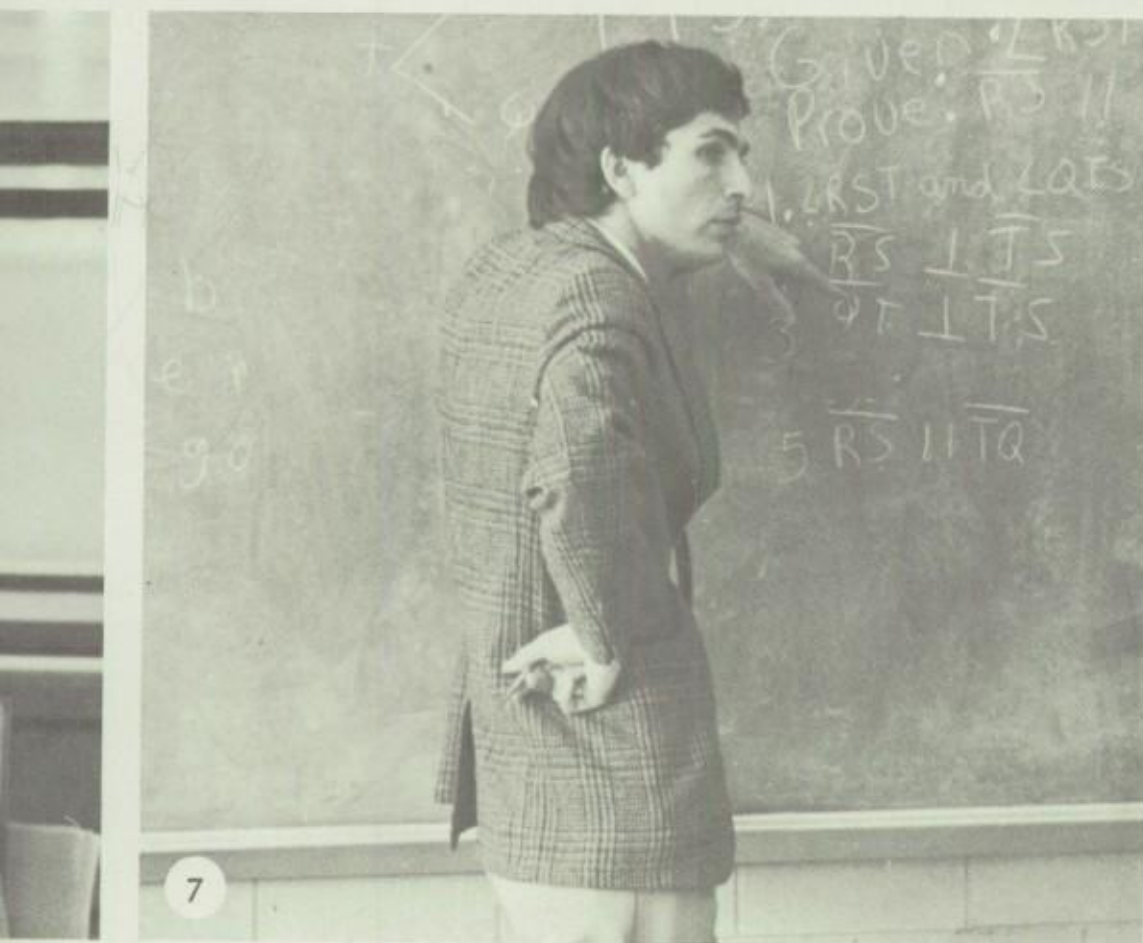

Mathematics

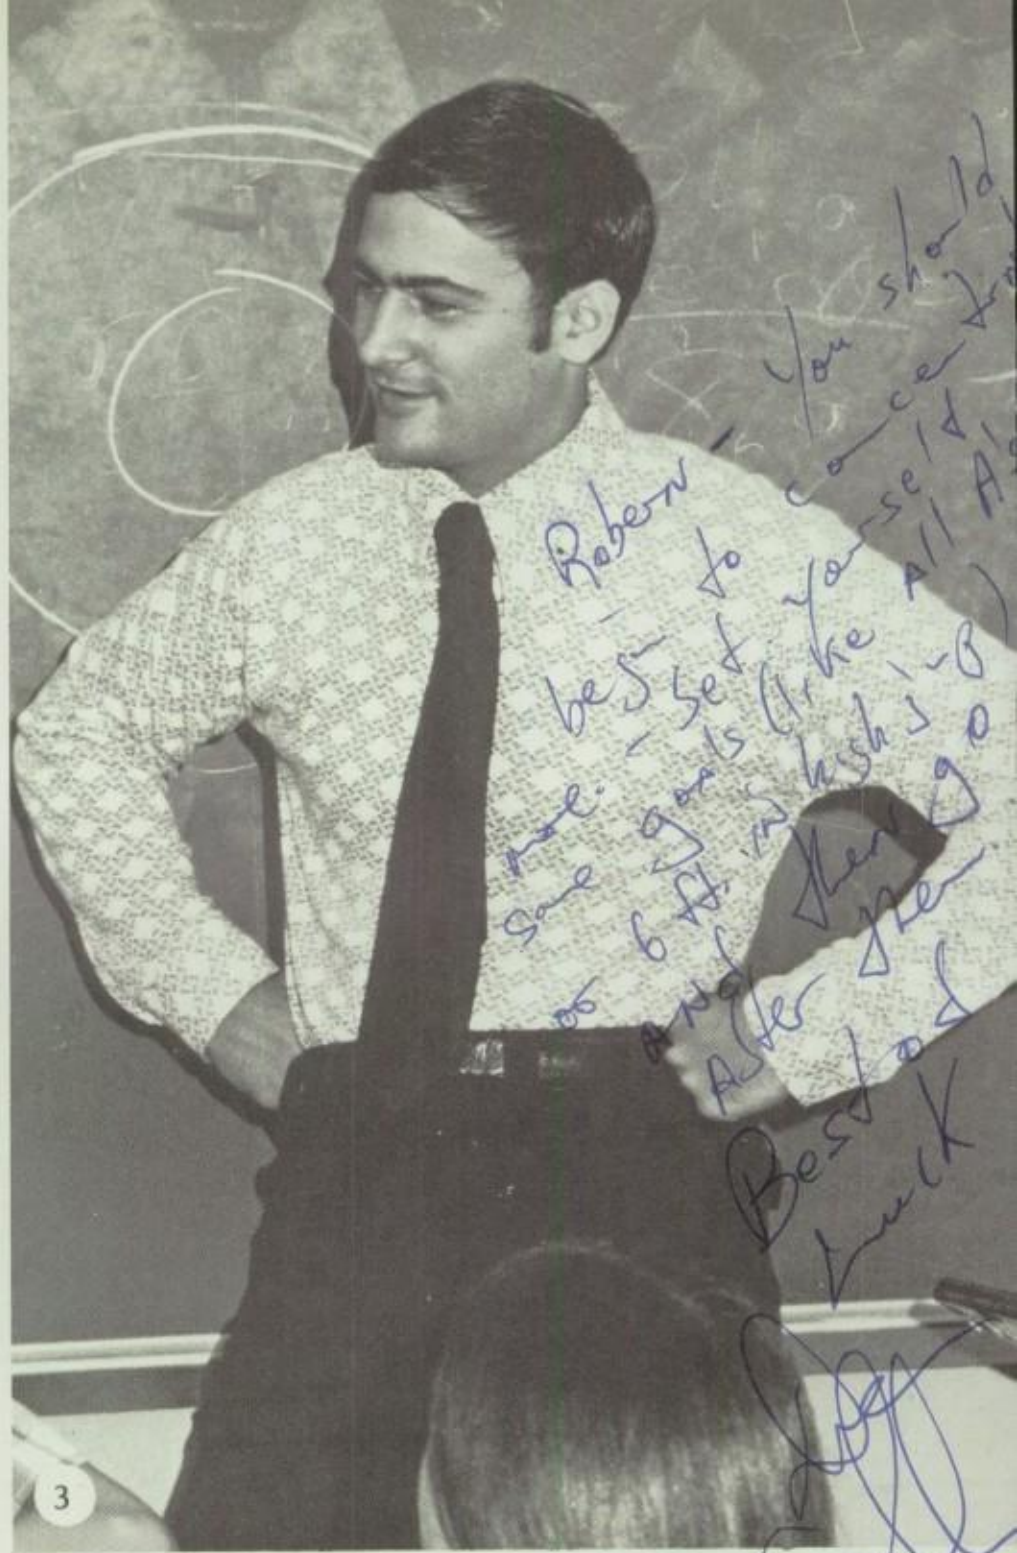

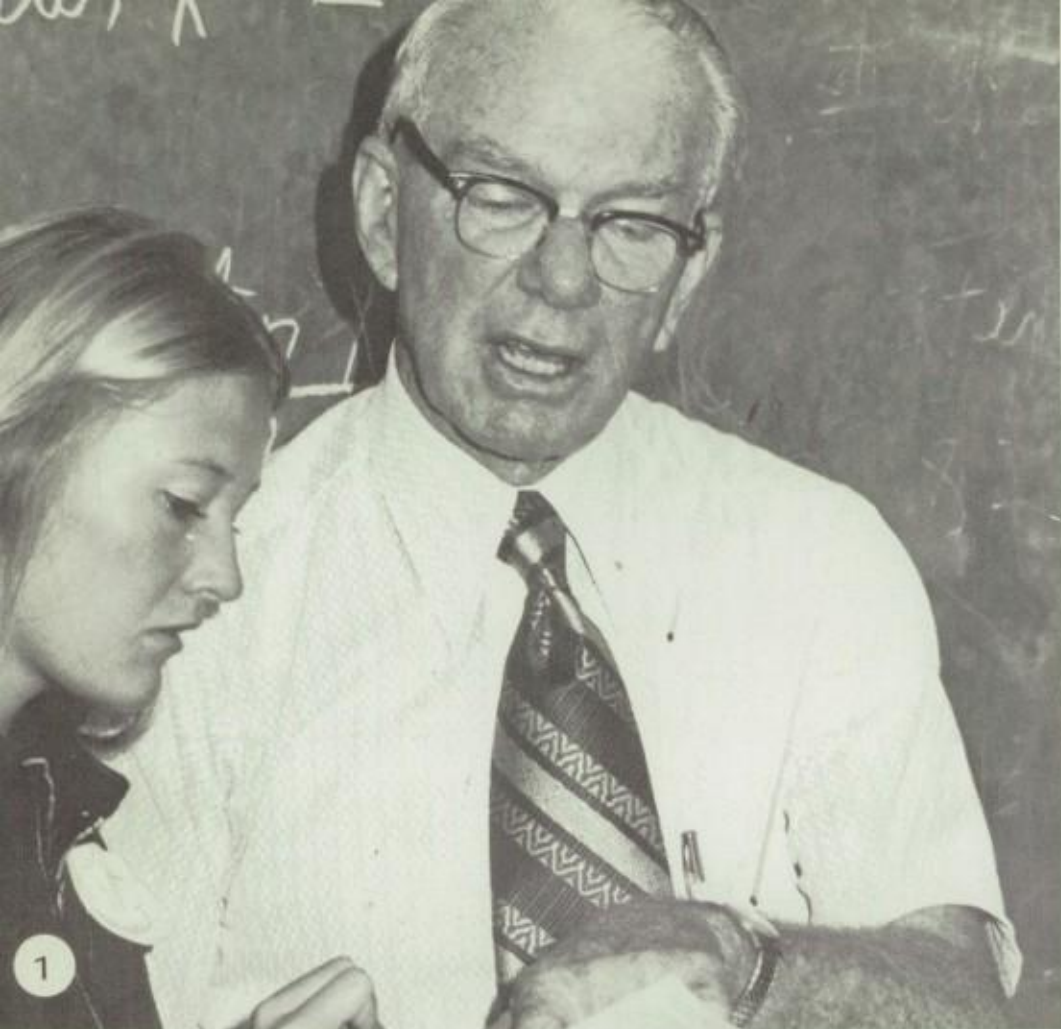

Although the program consists of highly academic mathematics, the curriculum aims to reach each student. Each faculty member teaches a variety of classes ranging from basic mathematics to college prep courses.

The mathematics teachers realize the needs for formal education, but also recognize the need for involvement. This is evident by their active sponsorships in extra-curricular activities.

Science

Science education in this decade should help students to be scientifically literate. Literacy in science means an ability to manipulate the biological and physical environment for one's own benefit and the benefit decisions about his or her own housing needs, food needs, transportation needs, health needs, and entertainment needs.

In order to accomplish the goals of helping the student to relate science to his or her own life, the science department would like to begin course offerings that are taken on a quarterly basis. Some topics may be listed as botany, microbiology, human anatomy, ecology, embryology, genetics, population, marine biology, and virology. The first year courses would be sequential, but a second year might take, for example, organic chemistry in the first quarter, followed by automotive mechanics in the second quarter, and microbiology during the third quarter.

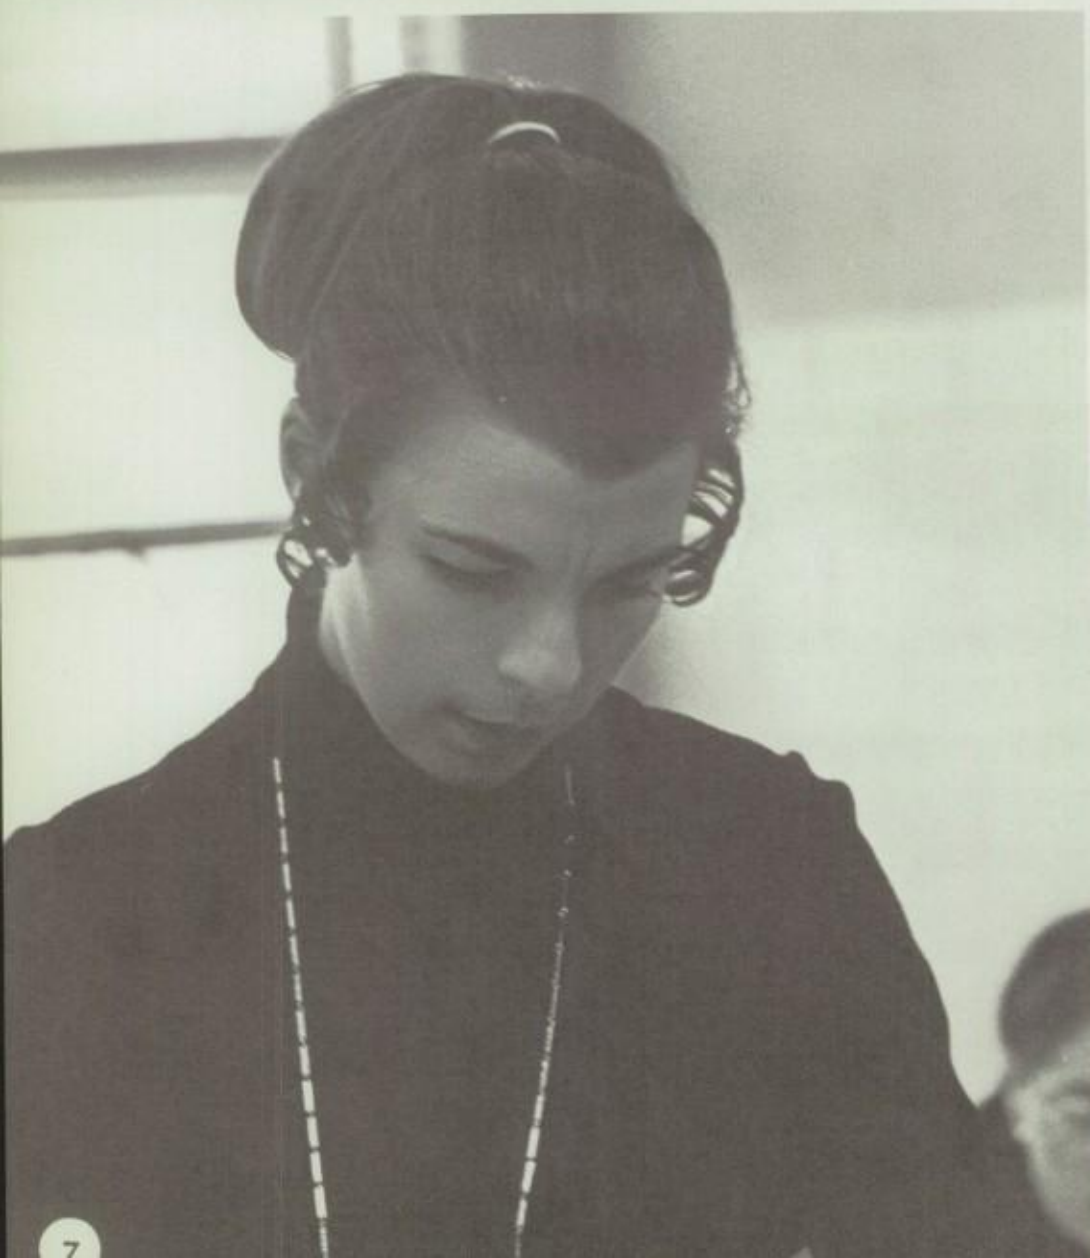

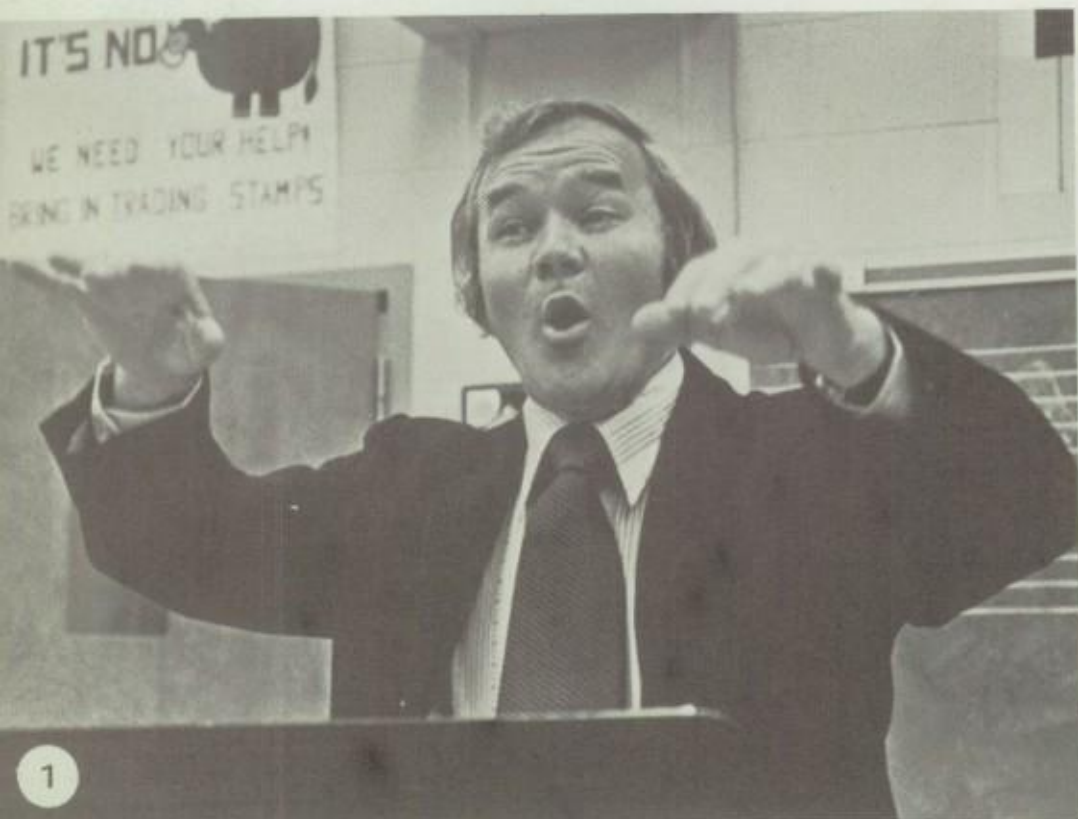

The Arts

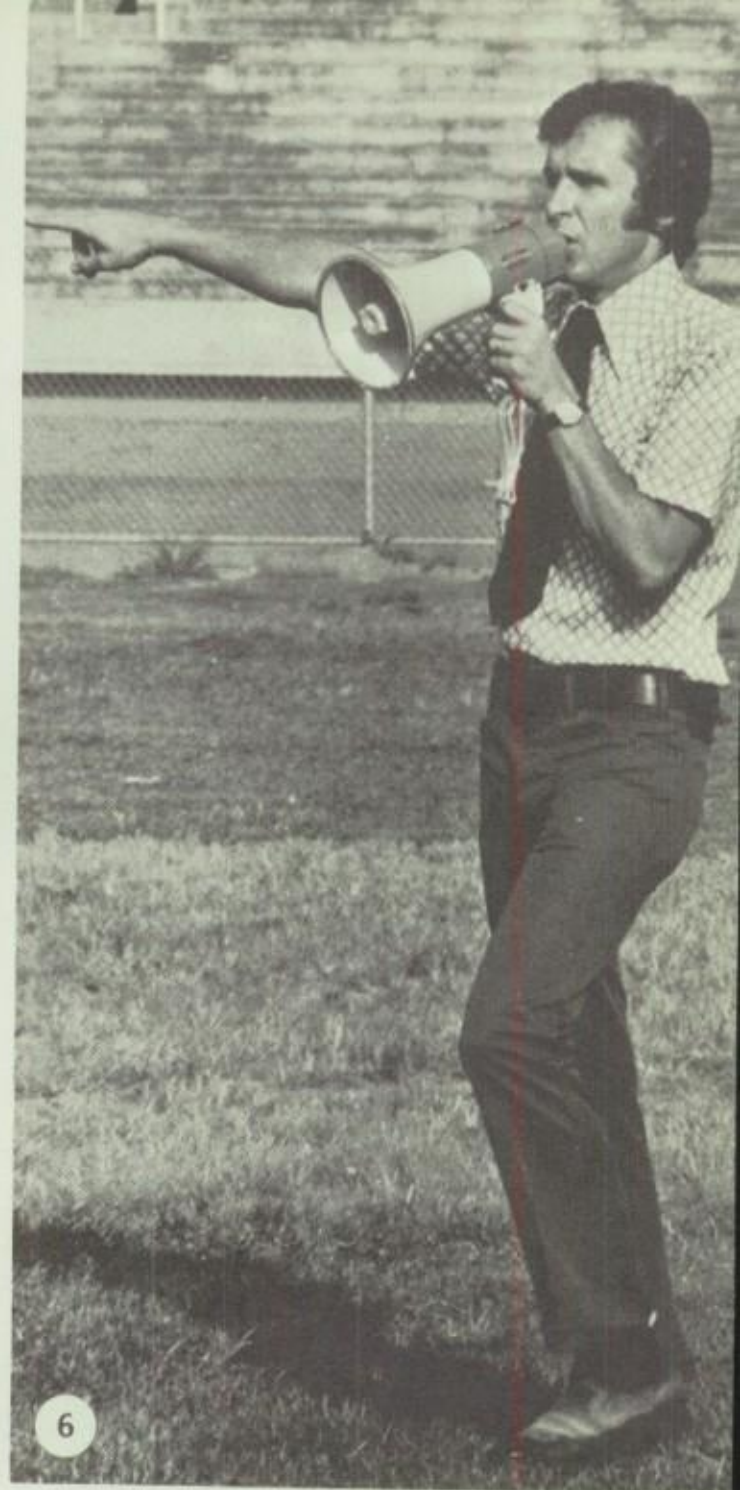

To meet the individual needs of students, Home Ec courses are offered in the eighth through twelfth grades.

Each level offers units in clothing and textiles, foods and nutrition with an area of personal relationships, interior design, child development, and with emphasis on preparation for marriage and family finance in the advanced level.

Although the Business Education Department of Briarcliff is quite small, it is still felt that students are offered valuable skills which they will find useful in their future vocation.

The Art Department's purpose is to create an awareness of the elements of art. The student can then apply this in evaluating their surroundings as well as in evaluating works of art. The students are hoping to extend art enjoyment throughout the school.

English

The department of English presents to you Anne Frank, Algernon, Romeo, and Zeus, too.
You meet Caesar, Helen, Twain, and Poe.
Hamlet, Beowulf, and Macbeth you also know.

These characters step from the pages, from the past;
They're introduced in various ways for impressions to last.
The usual B-Hall haven for the yearly duty you do Houses many teachers, also characters, and here are a few:

One wears jeans to class and never smiles,
But she expects perfection in your files.

In her class vocabulary comes day after day after day;
She entertains you with Gerfog and Flossie Mae.

To entertain you he jumps on top of his desk,
Does imitations, makes noises, but not on request.

"Welcome to high school, Mr. and Miss,"
She says to you with a flip of the wrist.

Mistaken for a student, a well dressed one, too,
She'll give you papers to write and much to do.

She says, "Cut out that happiness, and remember this, too;
I'm doing all this to make it easier on you."

And the one who nurtures the writers to be,
Writes K I S, S on the board for all to see.

If you want to see a movie, go to B-4;
There perhaps Hemingway will open the door.

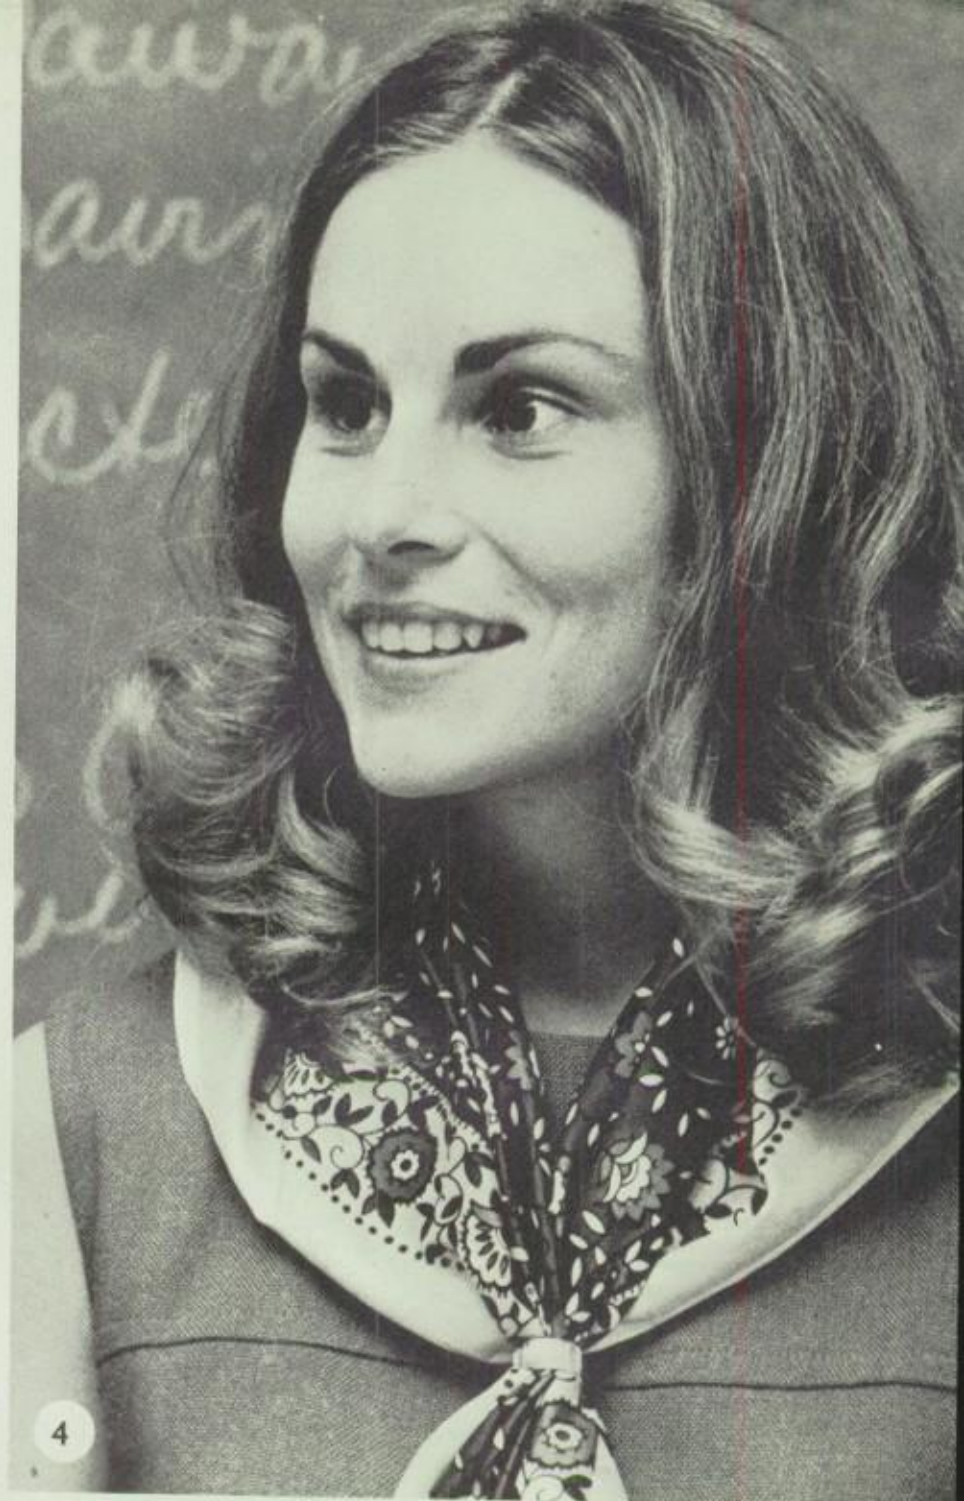

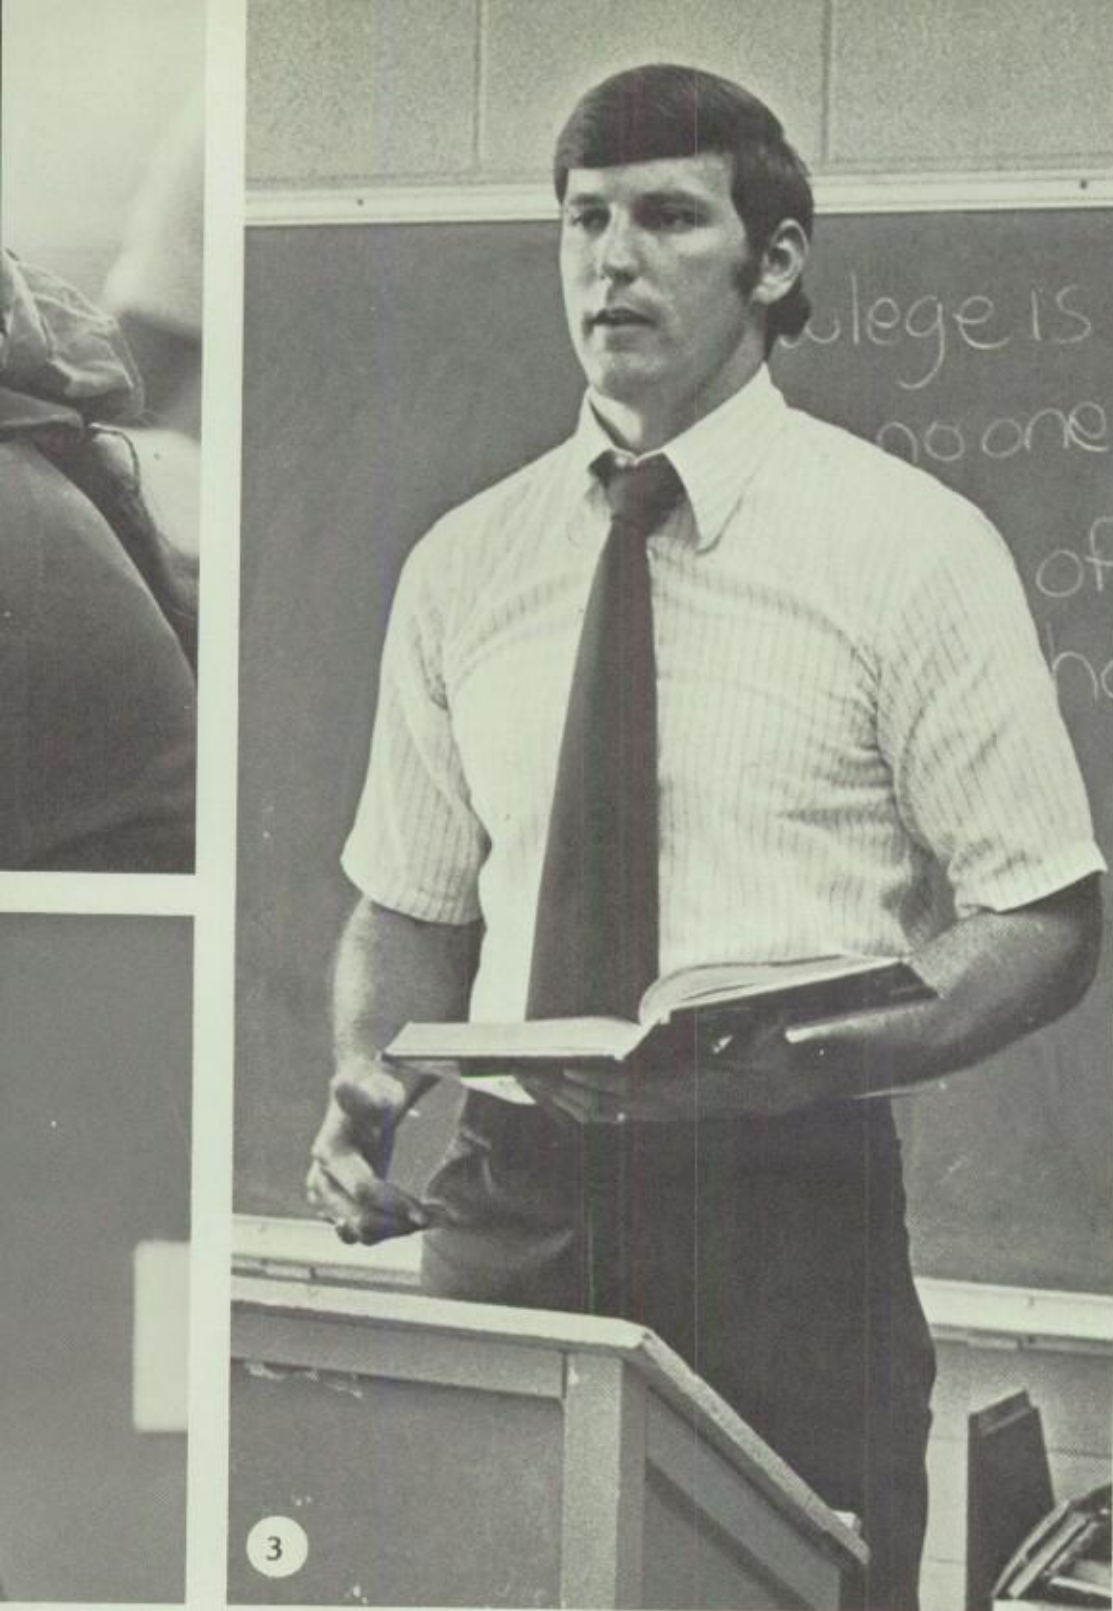

"Cool it kids," says the new senior teacher Allowing angels and devils as the '73 feature.

With a reaction of "phenomenal" and a comment on her child;
She'll give you a speech assignment that'll drive you wild.

The coach takes the football game into his class.
"Gimme the right vocabulary and you'll get a pass."

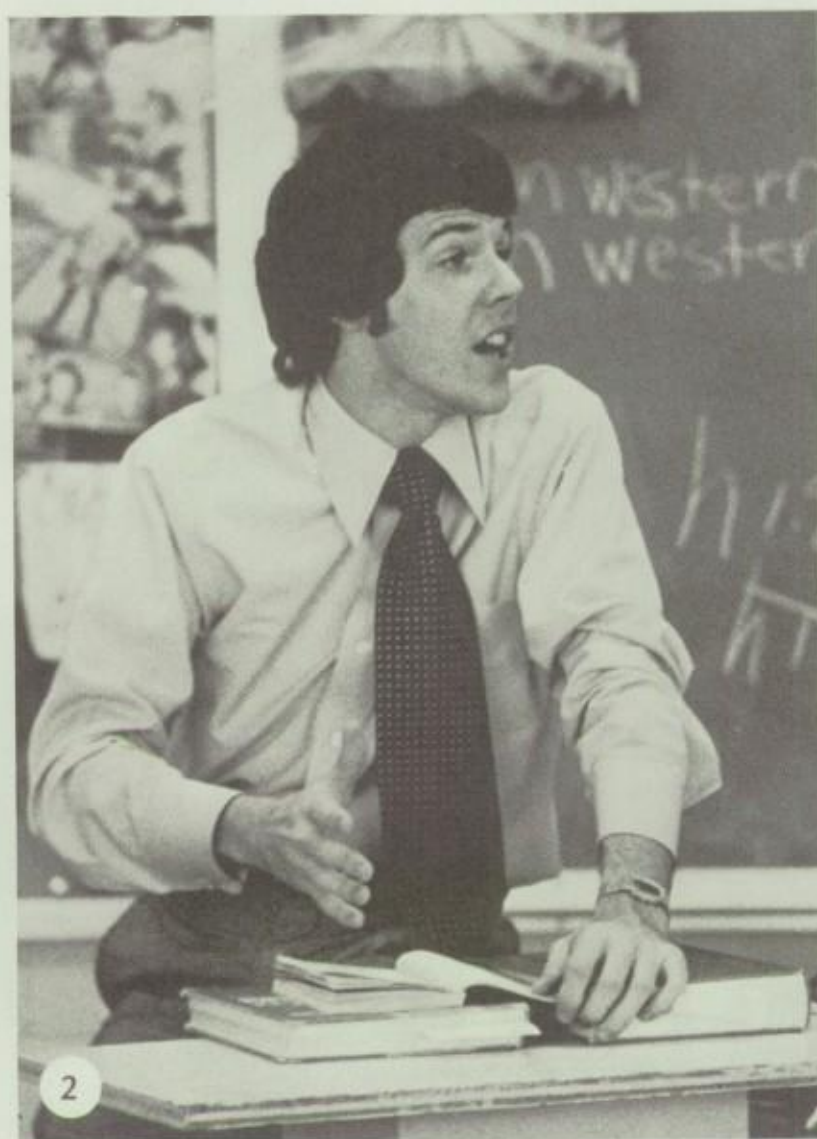

With all these characters much time is spent.
Learning we hope you do allow, not prevent.

Social Studies

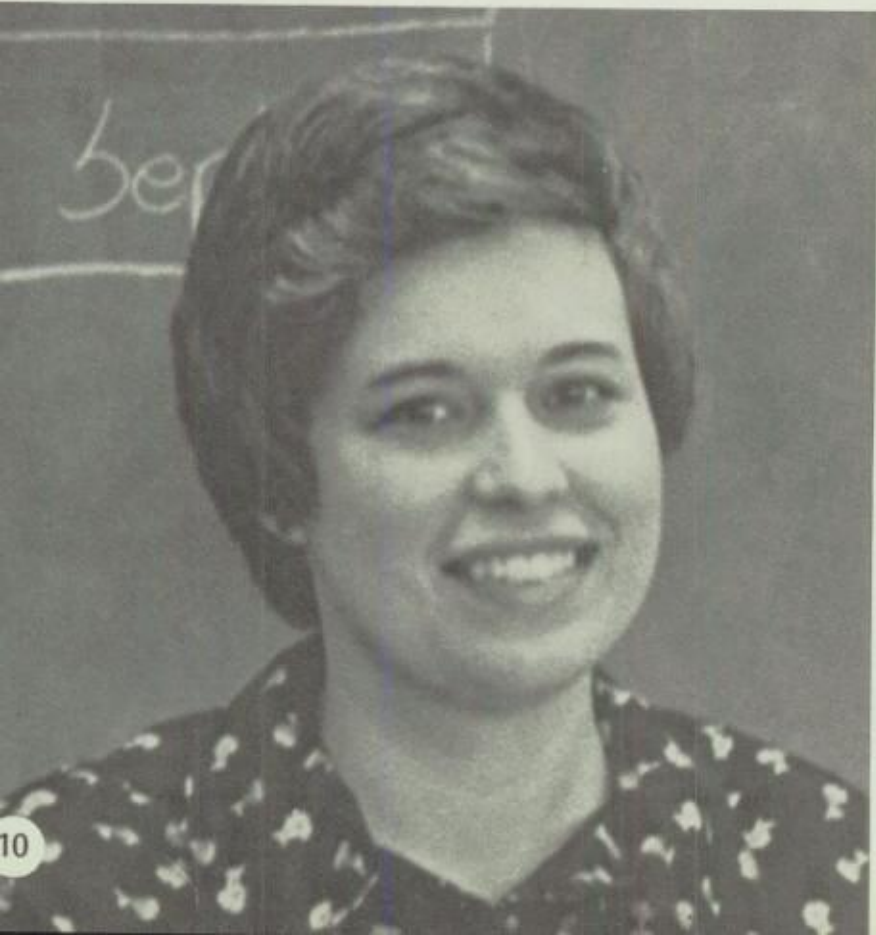

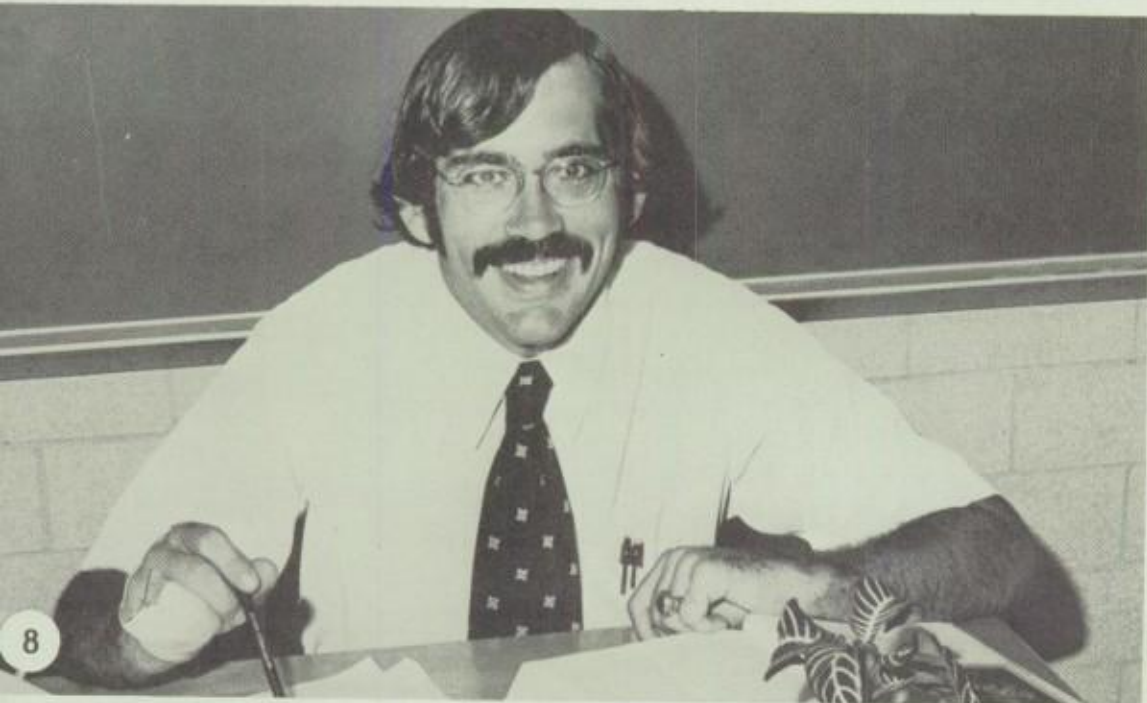

The Social Studies Department is initiating a series of mini-courses during winter quarter.

Spring quarter will see the inauguration of The Institute of Twenty-First Century Studies, originated and conducted by Mr. Lee Saye.

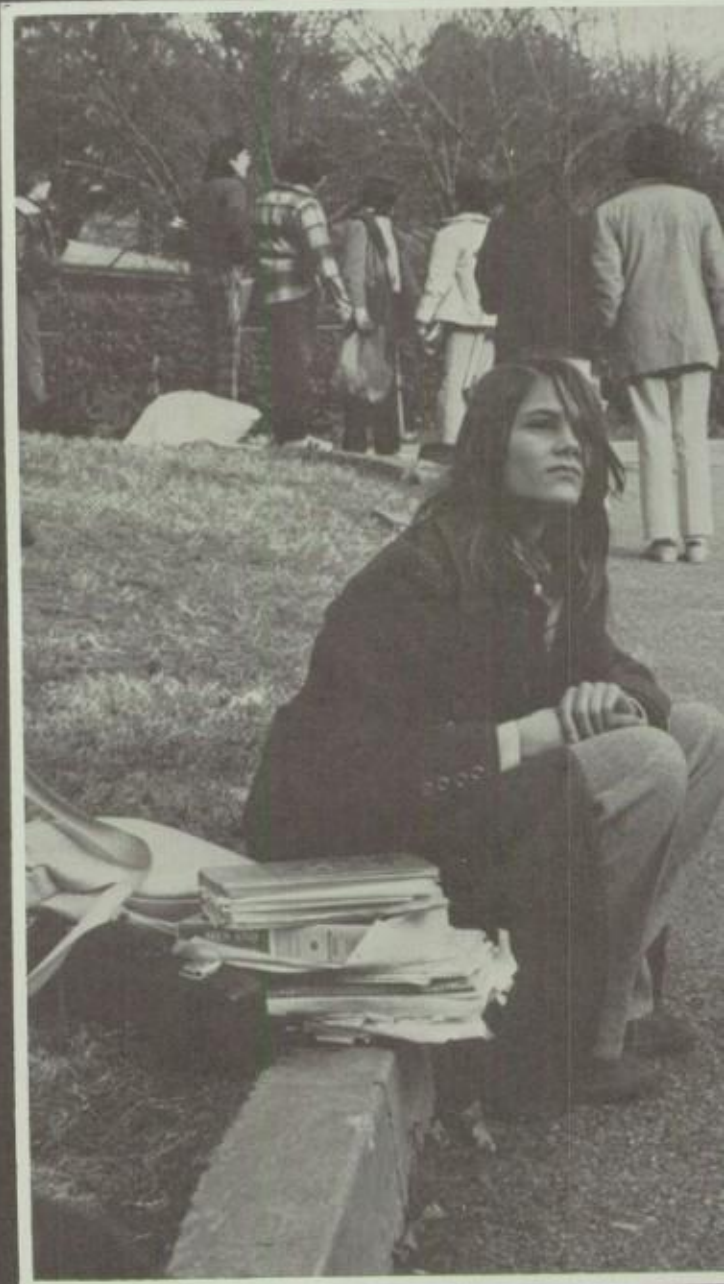

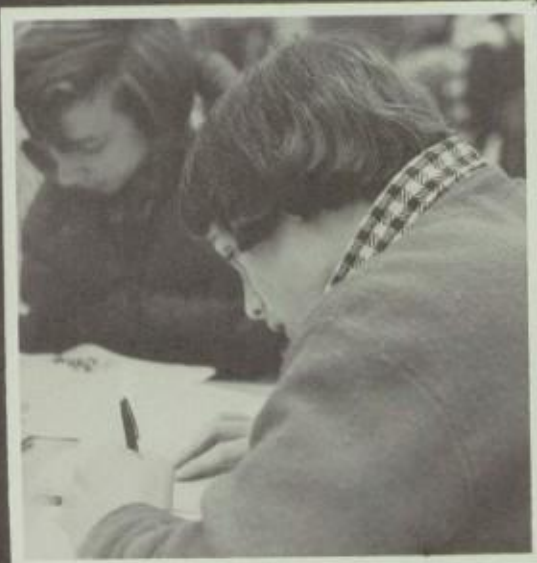

Social Studies teachers are using various teaching methods, including group work, simulations, games, projects and programs, panels, debates, and creative activities.

govern, yea buddy.
 so you're finally going to be a big 10th grader next year!
 I feel like you should be catching up with me, not me going on and on and getting so old! Oh, well.
 We had some really good times at the theatre even though we never had any thing in common to talk about (so you say).
 I'm glad you started to work because I probably would never have met you otherwise, and that you're really have been too bad cause well, have a good summer and I know I'll see you practically every day.
 Love,
 Lisa

CREATIVITY

A NEW DAWN

Faintly, creeping through the dusk Lifelessly, nightfall decomposes bringing on the new dawn.
With the new day, has come new life and a new beginning,
A glowing expansion of nature and understanding.
The clouds pass as quickly as they arrived, leaving no traces for man to follow.
Where are they traveling to? Beyond them, is there another world?
They tumble over one another like young children playing together in a field of poppy-flowers.
Then as dark, threatening clouds arise and the sky turns black, one child hurts himself and happiness forsakes.
As a day must come, the old one, bewildered, desolately inspects the world before it takes its one last bow, and its journey has now come to a close,
just as quickly as it began, it ended, leaving nothing but an abode for a new beginning.

EMERGENCE

Only alone will this creature come out Unleashed it will dance, it will sing, it will shout.
Proud of its being, but afraid to show
My hidden self that no one can know.

DEUX MILLES

Egg-white seashores turning grey,
Wings and feathers drift away.
Feathered canyons filled with trash, Pollution colors mix and clash.
Sparkling lakes with a tint of red,
Monoxide thick as sandwich speak.
Trees are fairy tales of old, Flowers are made in a plastic mold.
Churning, yearning, as a seed,
America cries in earnest need.

What is the beauty of life
When it always ends in death?

What is the beauty of love
When it always ends in hate?

What is the beauty of peace
When it always ends in war?

What is the beauty of us
When we're always found apart?

Peace is an eternal thing
If only we could find it.

PROGRESS

Open your window,
What do you see,
Do you remember,
How it used to be?

The birds have ceased,
To fly out here,
For the trees are gone,
And the air's not clear.

And endless sky,
Patched with clouds,
Now blocked by buildings,
Blocked by crowds.

David Paller,

TELL ME

Look at that lovely skyline
As the clouds move off to sea —
These are the words I want to hear;
You know I can not see.

Tell me, please, of the colors
And of the patterns up above.
Tell me of these things, my son,
The things I used to love.

Take a hold of my arm, boy.
Lead me down to the shore.
Tell me of sand, sky and sea;
Tell me my son, O, more.

Speak to me of waves and foam —
Tell of the things you find.
Thanks for the use of your eyes, my son.
You've been so very kind

Silent we sail
Amid silent stars
Amid the softly glowing warmth
Of silent homes
Amid the smooth safe headlights
Of silent cars
Past once familiar street corners
Now strange with silent darkness Past cruel flashes of green and red Tearing this heavy cloth of silence
That hangs from a yellow white moon.

O silent we are borne Through the ever silent singing of the night.

LOVE

I Love You. In darkness you comfort me. In danger you protect me. In fear you reassure me. I Love You. In Spring the flowers bloom for you. Snow would make a path for you. The animals, they worship you. Sun shines to bring delight to you. I Love You. And when the sun shines no longer, one day we will be together forever ... and ever ...

Robert,
I hope this you will find shorten of some
the summer & look stop looking like somebody.

I'd just lost my sense of place and was looking for another when in the crowds I saw a face
he looked much like my brother But wait! No brother do I have and this man I've never seen Perhaps I've seen this man, I laugh, at a place I've never been.
And then to me 'twas plain to see that this was not just chance.
Then in my mind there came a flood
— my consciousness, it drowned.
Agape there in the streets, I stood Oblivious to sight and sound;
The memories long forgotten came into my nonthought state
And in his mind has passed the same;
a parlour trick of fate —
We remembered things of eons past, of lives lived long ago
Or maybe spanning ages hence yet in our time's flow
Our souls had just met again
they had just gone to play
A twist of plot in some great plan, perhaps; I will not say Ere long we nodded man to man and both went on our ways . . .

Robert,

What a year, ya know! It's was fun at times, though. I'm glad you got in 2 of my classes this year, cause I liked talking to ya. You're a pretty nice, guy. We made through
Mr. Coughlin, but at times it was fun.
Maybe next year we'll be together in some classes. Think so? Hope so?

Look, (sorry I changed inks) have a good summer and try to stay out of trouble! I hope you have fun. Don't forget our World Geo. play! And

War and Politics: the Good, the Bad, and the Ugly

It started as a comic opera, with the arrest of GOP spies in the act of bugging Democratic headquarters. But, the third-rate Watergate burglary finally erupted into the biggest national scandal since Teapot Dome. A wounded Richard Nixon has tried to struggle out of the morass of Watergate but has found himself deeply mired as ever.

After months as the "Mr. Clean" of the Watergate-stricken Nixon Administration, Vice-President Spiro Agnew suddenly came under a cloud with the news he was being investigated in a criminal case. He eventually buckled under the pressure of the continuing Federal kickback investigation and resigned in a deal with the prosecution. Agnew's successor was soon proclaimed: House Republican Leader Gerald Ford, a loyal yet limited Capitol veteran.

The war began on Yom Kippur, the sacred Jewish Day of atonement, and caught the world off-guard. Within hours, Israeli reservists were pouring out of their homes and synagogues to be rushed to the front. The sixth day came and passed without victory, and instead of a repetition of the 1967 Israeli blitzkrieg, the latest round of fighting between Israel and the Arab states turned into the fiercest struggle in modern Middle East history, and the Arabs exulted with reborn pride. Suddenly the Middle East War changed course: the Israelis were on the offensive and Henry Kissinger was in Moscow; the Arab states and Israel began to talk peace.

Energy and Sports:

The year had barely begun when the world confronted the energy crisis. Many Americans were skeptical about the threat — but an autumn of brown outs, gasoline shortages and then war in the Mideast erased most doubts. The global oil shortages have posed a painful dilemma for the energy-hungry U.S.

Winter arrived with a roar, and as the temperatures dropped, Americans learned, in large ways and small, to live with the energy crisis. The President made a special T.V. appeal for voluntary cutbacks in consumption, and America responded by turning down its thermostats and easing up on the gas pedal.

But the petroleum shortage was only one aspect of the new scarcity economy. Everything from aluminum and tennis balls, to salmon and zinc had become scarce, and prices skyrocketed. And it now appears that the new equation will affect the American way of life for years to come.

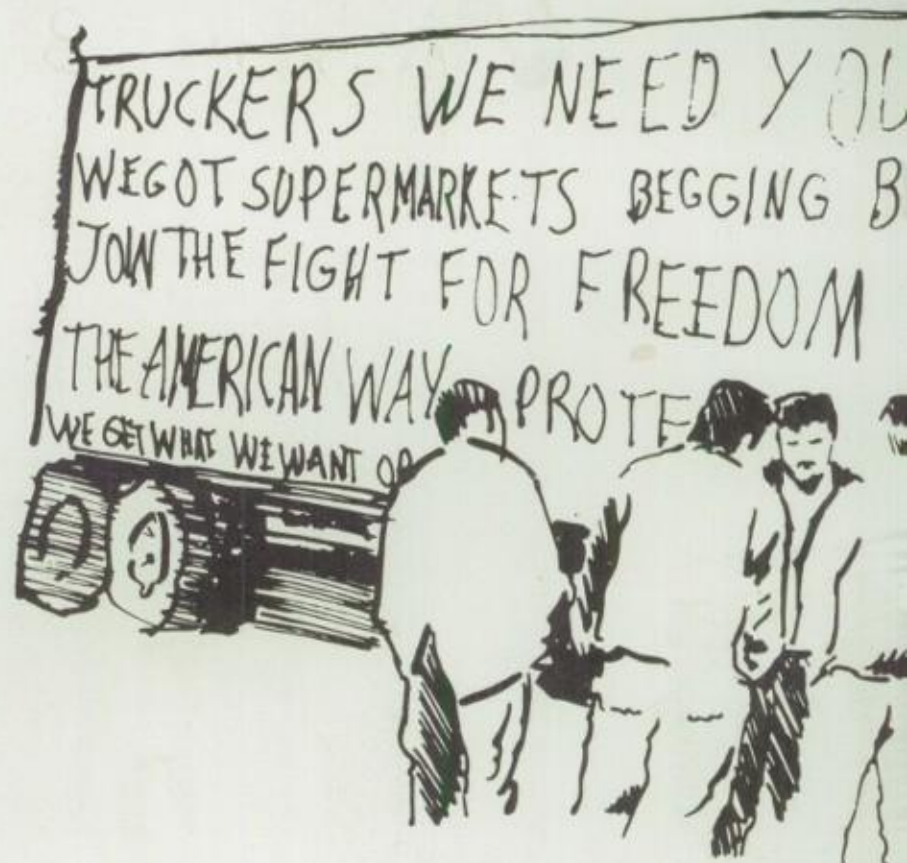

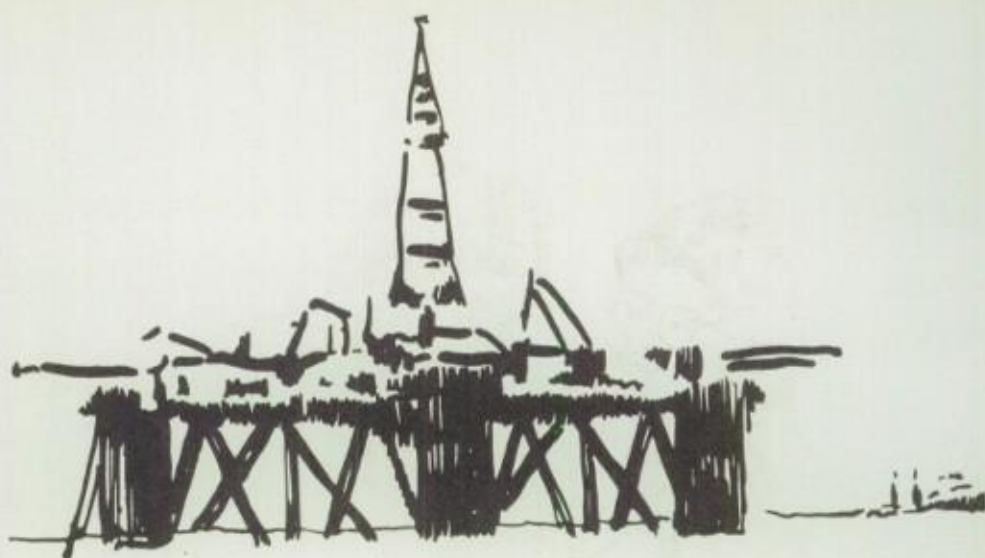

Atlanta's indoor sports can be uniquely characterized as "fired up". The Flames have proved to be better than any other expansion team in history. The Hawks were firmly entrenched in second place, thanks to ball-handling skills of Maravich, Hudson, and Bellamy.

Atlanta's outdoor sports consist of teams of players who individually are the stars of their sports arena. Henry Aaron, falling short of Babe Ruth's 714 home run record by one home run, will be in hot pursuit of the record next season. The Falcons drive for the play offs, under the leadership of Bob Lee and the running ability of Dave Hampton, ended in an "almost".

Championships made headlines in the 1973-74 season. the New York Mets were put down by the skill, work, and team spirit of the Oakland A's. The Super Bowl was won by the Miami Dolphins. The Vikings unfortunately did not compete like the team from Minnesota who beat the Cowboys on the road to Pro Football's ultimate finale.

The most flamboyant male chauvinist since Bluebeard took on the liberationist queen of women's tennis following his victory over Margaret Court on Mother's Day. The much ballyhooed match between Bobby Riggs and Billie Jean King was watched by maybe 50 million Americans. From almost the first rally, King established her mastery over Riggs — and then went on to win the Battle of the Sexes in three straight sets.

The semi-finals of the world chess championship was held in Augusta, Georgia. The winner will go on to play Bobby Fischer, the current champion. "Turnabout is fair play" seems to describe the world of heavy-weight boxing perfectly. George Foreman clobbered Frazier to the floor six times to take the title. Defeat hit Frazier again during a sparring between him and Muhammad Ali.

A yearbook requires much planning as well as the time, energies, and cooperation of many people. Plans were begun for the 1974 Shield in July of 1973, when a determined staff met at Rock Eagle Yearbook Camp for training. These students were bound by a common interest to produce a representative book of Briarcliff High, one which reflects the talents and interests of students and faculty alike.

A need was felt to add a new "Creativity" section in which students could express themselves. We appreciate the many contributions and only wish all could have been used.

We would like to gratefully thank Mr. Doc Ferris for his photographic skills and time which helped to produce the cover, Mr. Phil Houston who came to us late in the year from Hewett Studios yet expressed a willingness to help, Mr. Dan Troy of American Yearbook for his ideas on layout and design and helpfulness throughout the year, Debbie Everhart for copy writing in the Opening and Features sections, Stewart Shapira for copy writing in the Opening and Closing sections, Mrs. Jewlene Jones who is always willing to advise or contribute her time and effort, Mrs. Mickey Bray for her genuine concern and guidance in the budget, Chris Knott for the use of his photographic lab and advise, and to Miss Eilleen Paris, our sponsor and typist for her continuous energy and enthusiasm.

It is our sincere hope that the 1973-1974 Shield will serve as a treasure chest of memories. It is a book that when read, flipped through, laughed at, or cried over many years from now will bring memories of "this" year. Not only student life at BHS has been portrayed, but also local and national events in order to relate this school year to the time period in which it exists.

As the days turn into weeks, the weeks to months, and the months to years, one tends to forget the details of such a specific fragment of time. The Shield is a collection of those details which make "this" year of our lives so unique.

Robert,

Next year are you going to follow around the same kid or pick an eight grader? If you decide to get an eight grader, I want to help. (Especially if he's a Fag),

Angier

Robert,

It's been really great working with you these past few months. We've really had some great times at the theater. Thanks for helping us out with the 2 dollars we needed for the drinks, that was really weird. YEA BUDDY! Some day maybe you'll understand mine and Lisa's conversations, and the snowy weather. See ya' at work this summer.

Love
Lisa
Miller

Robert,

Its been great having you in P.E
and Mr Coughlin's class this.

Hope to see you in track next year.

17' or more in long Jump + 5' and more in high Jump. + Sprint Sprint,

Sprint. Aren't you glad we had

COACH HULME For a coach instead of MR. Coughlin? I am.

Boy I would dread running with Mr Coughlin's Eight Graders (Sabbies)

I hope we're in more classes

next. Boy just 6 more days of Mr Coughlin + Mrs Chetwynd

Have a terrific Summer

see ya next year

Roburn:
Hope that you will be in choir next year, I will be. I been fun in Corliss class.
sometimes. Wish you good luck in science next year. You'll probably need it!

Mark Davis

Roburn, Been great having you in my Geography and P.E.
classes this year.
I want give you the same old bull that everyone else gives you like "Have a nice summer" and all that crap. Be cool and I'll check
you later,

Johnny
Blackwell.

Roburn,
This year is over (betcha didn't know that). Hope you've enjoyed chorus. I sure have. You better stick around next year - we need everyone we can get. I think you have ~~been~~ a pretty good voice. If you really develop it good then there's no telling what you might do. Take it easy this summer - don't work too hard.

Mike Benison

Robert,

This has been a weird year.

- THE YEAR OF 1973-1974 -

1st Quarter: Went to Moultrie Ga.
Got 3 flat tires. Got invited to go to Austria.

2nd Quarter: Worked for money

3rd Quarter: got sick every other day.
Garage sale. You told me we were going to Jamaica. Found out we could not go to Austria.

WHAT SO WEIRD ABOUT THAT?

NOTHING

Steve Schultz

lunch see you next year
By Jimmy Stallman

I had fun at Six Flags with you guys and hope all of us can get together sometimes and do it again. Christmas we can go on the "Jock Coostoe" first, next year sight reading. Have a nice summer.
Beth

Robert,

It was a great year except for English because that Dooey looking nut sat in front of me, and P.E.
was bad because of you!!
Just kidding. It was a great year period.

any P.S. Have a great summer

Robert,

What a year! We had a pretty good track season this year. Don't worry about me next year I'll be out there, some as always. Sure had fun being in chorus, W. Geography, and P.E. with you. You've been a great friend and I hope you'll be in some of my classes next year. Track banquet is this Friday - Bassby! (Can't wait - I'm gonna eat my heart out) See ya' later and I hope you have a good time this summer.

Each autumn the air is crisp and clear
And as the wind blows, sweeping down
The swirling and ever-changing leaves
From above, I stand alone, and let the breeze Run through me. With the breeze comes
The fragrance of last year's autumn
And of all the autumns I have known.

And I see before me the cycle of the years,
the cycle of life
Which always seems to return to autumn.
And the memories linger, trembling, on the wind
And all the autumns of my life are merged
And become one autumn —
The autumn of the past.
